Van Fleet Expects New Communist Offensive

Montreal (AP) — Flames billowing up an elevator shaft raced through the Hospice Ste. Cunegonde yesterday, killing at least 30 persons in the ancient five-story orphanage and old peoples' home.

Many of the rescued aged were taken to hospitals suffering from shock. Others were housed in a Knights of Columbus hall nearby. Firemen reported they found four bodies about a fourth-floor window and four more near a third-floor window. The body of one woman, believed to have been a cripple, was found in a rocking chair in an upper-floor room.

Mrs. Paul-Emile Gauthier, who lives just across the street from the hospice, saw from one of her windows the first puffs of flames.

Rushing across the street and through smoke-filled corridors to the second floor, she guided 12 people to safety. She had to make six trips into the flaming building, taking her charges to safety two at a time down a narrow fire-escape stair.

People leaned out of the floors high above the street, she said, calling: "God help us. God help us."

Director Pare said the fire receded one in 1918 which took the lives of 64 infants at the grey nuns' main house on Guy St.

About 400 children and old people lived in the house. Nearly all the dead were believed to be aged women occupying upper floors.

Among the dead was Mother Superior Rita Gervais of the Roman Catholic grey nuns, who operated the hospice. With her hands clasped as if in prayer, her body was found last night by firemen still searching the debris hours after the first alarm sounded. Missing and believed dead is another nun, Sister Chauvin.

Assistant Police Inspector Herve Guimond fixed the death toll at 30. Fire Director Wilfrid Pare said an all-night search of the smoking building would be necessary before the exact number could be determined.

The flames started near the elevator shaft and shot up to the top floors with lightning speed. In ten minutes it had spread through hallways from front to back. The death toll first was set at two—then mounted steadily as firemen were able to work through the wreckage on the upper floors of the stone and wood home, 75 years old.

The old people in the home included about a dozen blind persons, and among the children were many cripples.

Women lived on the upper floors of the building. Aged men lived on the lower floors and most of them are believed to have escaped.

There were about 200 aged residents of the hospice and 200 children, many of them orphans. All were reported safe. Twenty-four nuns led them to safety.

St. Louis Paper Sold

St. Louis (AP) — The St. Louis newspaper field was cut to two yesterday with the sale of the Star-Times to the Pulitzer-owned Post-Dispatch.

The sale, for an undisclosed sum, leaves the Post-Dispatch without competition in the afternoon field here. The city's other daily is the Globe-Democrat, a morning paper.

Publisher Elsey Roberts of the Star-Times said economic conditions forced the transaction. "The year 1951 marks the fifth consecutive year during which ever-mounting labor and material costs have risen faster than the increased revenues necessary to meet them," his announcement said.

The newspaper, which put out its last edition yesterday employed 575 persons and had a daily circulation of almost 180,000—compared with 290,000 for the Post-Dispatch.

Announcement of the sale came as a surprise to all but a few workers of the two papers.

Earle's Baby Son Denied $100,000

Philadelphia (AP)—Orphan's court ruled yesterday that Anthony Wayne Earle, 3D, baby son of former Gov. George H. Earle, 3D is not entitled to a $100,000 trust fund from the estate of his grandfather, George H. Earle Jr.

Judge Charles Klein wrote the opinion. It came as a result of an appeal taken to the court en banc from a similar opinion handed down by Judge David G. Hunter.

The grandfather died in 1928. He willed $100,000 to each grandchild bearing the name of Earle. Judge Hunter had ruled that in the will the grandfather "intended to restrict the legacies to grandsons living at the time of his death."

Mac Invites Acheson To Explain Paper

San Antonio, Tex. (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur charged yesterday that Secretary of State Acheson used Russian-type propaganda in defending a 1949 State department document which said Formosa had no special military significance.

The five-star general bluntly challenged the secretary's explanation of the policy paper.

MacArthur did not refer to Acheson by name, but there was no doubt he was hitting out at the secretary when he said:

"We have indeed reached an astounding concept of morality when an official estimate such as that put out in December, 1949, on Formosa, is now stated to be false and to have been intentionally publicized in order to mislead public opinion."

"Propaganda of this type closely parallels the Soviet system which we so bitterly condemn. Human liberty has never survived where such practice has flourished."

The document, a memorandum, was sent out to consular officials in December, 1949, telling them the fall of Formosa to the Chinese Reds was anticipated and to prepare public opinion for the fall. The memo also said the island had no special military significance.

This Complainant Should Have Left Well Enough Alone

Springfield, O. (AP)—A man called City Manager R. M. Holsington the other day to complain bitterly about chukholes in his street.

So the manager sent a street official to look things over. The street official promptly reported the section of the street in question is outside the city limits.

"That can't be," complained the unidentified complainant. "After all, I get the city garbage and trash collection service and there are two city-operated street lights near my home."

Holsington had the two street lights disconnected and trash and garbage collection service suspended, and—

The big chukholes in the street are still there.

Senate Committee Approves Extension Of Rent Controls

Washington (AP)—The Senate Banking committee voted yesterday to renew and expand the government's huge rent control program. But it recommended a raise in some of the rent ceilings.

Existing controls on about 7,000,000 private dwelling expire June 30. Shaping up a new regulation, the committee agreed to permit rents to rise 20 per cent above the 1942 ceilings in areas which came under control during the last war or shortly after it.

What this means in dollars and cents, and how many tenants it will affect, was not known immediately. The 190 areas of the country under Federal rent control already have received increases of from 10 to 30 per cent above 1942 levels, a total of 138 of them have allowed landlords to raise rents 15 per cent. So in those cases any further boost would be only 5 per cent.

New areas could be brought

Russell Invites MacArthur To Return For Testimony

Washington (AP)—Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) yesterday extended an open invitation to Gen. Douglas MacArthur to return for further testimony before the Senate committee investigating the five-star general's ouster.

Russell said MacArthur will get a chance to testify again, if he desires, because all the other witnesses had a chance to read his testimony before offering their own.

Russell made the announcement as former Secretary of Defense Johnson, concluding his testimony, told the inquiry committee he believes "we could lick Russia right now" if the Soviets decided to pick a fight.

But Johnson said he would not advocate any bold new strategy for winning the Korean war if it would touch off world war three. The former defense chief, who was in the witness chair two days, said he believes America's growing military strength, backed by powerful atomic weapons, "will prevent a war for a reasonable length of time."

One thing Russia "respects and fears" is the industrial might of the United States, he said.

Chairman Russell told newsmen that if General MacArthur accepts the invitation to return to Capitol Hill and brings up "new matters," it may be necessary to recall Secretary of Defense Marshall and the Joint Chiefs of Staff for further questioning.

Russell said he was calling off plans to hear W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's special adviser, on Monday.

He said a seven-member subcommittee has recommended that the long-drawn inquiry be closed within the next 15 days, and the full 26-member inquiry committee will act on the recommendation Monday. It will also decide on all future witnesses then, Russell added.

He said the list of proposed witnesses may undergo a "drastic reduction."

Johnson hinted strongly that he felt the State department was attempting to dominate the military and was invading the military's realm of authority.

Calling for a reorganization of the State department, Johnson said it should be the country's "diplomatic agent and not be all over the lot, handling economic aid and everything else."

Specifically, he said the State department should not be permitted to administer military aid to North Atlantic treaty countries.

"It gives me great cause for concern," he said, "because military matters ought to be handled by the military brethren."

Three U.S. Navy Airmen Killed

Manila, Saturday (AP) — Three Navy enlisted men were killed in a flaming crash landing of a two-engine U. S. seaplane off Sangley Point Naval station Thursday night, the Navy announced today.

Fifteen others aboard the plane were rescued. The Navy said the plane was returning from a routine flight to Japan where five passengers were picked up.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Under control if such action was deemed critically necessary to the defense effort.

As it now stands in committee, the bill would impose controls in "critical defense areas" designated by secretary of defense Marshall and defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson.

A critical defense area is defined in the bill as one where new defense plants have been built or old ones reactivated, where there has been a substantial "in-migration" of defense workers or military personnel, or where a substantial shortage of housing threatens to impede the defense effort.

Fresh Air Tots Arouse Wide Interest

The "251 for 51" campaign of Monroe county's Fresh Air committee is attracting interest in new quarters as well as recalls for Fresh Air youngsters by families who were hosts to the underprivileged children last year. Every effort will be made to bring 251 Fresh Airs here.

John R. Wilson, chairman of the Fresh Air committee, said yesterday that the deadline for filing applications for children is June 29. Children will be here for two weeks vacation starting July 10.

A coupon application is available on Page 2 of today's Daily Record. Fill it out and mail it to The Daily Record today.

Last year's vacation period was highly successful for hosts as well as the children. Many families were so delighted with the children they had them in their homes here for the Christmas holidays.

Many of these same families have asked for the same children back this summer and their requests are being honored.

All the children are selected from worthy groups by top social organizations of New York City and referred to New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air fund.

Every child is given a complete physical examination before he or she leaves New York. Travel expenses are paid by the fund and any medical or surgical expenses incurred while here are also paid by the fund.

In addition to the coupon in today's issue of The Daily Record applications for children may be filed by calling Radio Station WYPO 1102 or the YMCA 832.

The closed session of the Republican senators was called to make a new effort to resolve the months-long dispute over Gov. John S. Fine's proposed one-half of one per cent income tax.

The $119,000,000 income bill has been bottled up in the Senate Finance committee since 11 Republican senators—enough to defeat it—refused to support the measure.

The day's developments brought indications that the lineup of Republican senators on the income tax issue was relatively unchanged although there were conflicting reports as to the number opposing and supporting the bill.

Berger at the close of the night session said some senators think about $1,500,000 can be trimmed out of the budget in various places. He noted that was a small figure when compared with the budget total.

Sen. G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware) told reporters on the basis of what department heads say they need "the budget is in good shape" and that about $90,000,000 additional revenue is needed to balance it.

"But I still am against the income tax," Watkins quickly added. Dr. Edward B. Logan, budget secretary, said that no department head who testified had agreed to cuts and some wanted more money.

Berger said the tax problem was not discussed but would be taken up today when interviews with department heads are concluded.

The three CIO unions involved in the current contract dispute want a 40-hour week at sea, higher wages and other benefits.

A committee representing 40 shipping companies remained in session with union representatives here trying to agree on terms, but there were no hopeful signs.

Rail Unions To Consider Offer

Washington (AP)—The railroad's latest contract offer in the long delayed dispute will be considered June 27 by union representatives.

Heads of the engineers, firemen and engineers, firemen and engineers yesterday called 500 rank and file members to Washington on that date. Although they declined to discuss the offer or their reaction to it, it was understood to be virtually the same as that accepted on May 25 by the fourth operating union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Under that agreement, approved only two days ago by the Wage Stabilization board, road service men would receive a wage increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour and those in yard service 33 cents.

The major difficulty has been over adoption of the 40 hour week and changes in operating rules which the railroads want to put into effect. There has been little dispute over wages.

Berlin (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lemuel Mathewson, American commandant in Berlin, sent another protest yesterday to the Russians on Soviet restrictions of goods shipped from West Berlin to the west.

Army Assigns Captain Myers As Resident Engineer At Tobyhanna Military Depot

Philadelphia—Capt. John A. Myers, a reservist with the United States Army Engineers here, has been assigned as resident engineer at the U. S. Army Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna, Monroe county, Pa.

Captain Myers was recalled some time ago to the Army Engineers.

He will serve during the period of construction of the $30,000,000 depot which will utilize some 5,000 civilian employees.

Already on the depot is Major Thomas E. Morrison who is the U. S. Army's Signal Corps liaison officer handling all matters involving the Signal Corps.

Bids on the first phase of the construction for the huge depot will be opened next Tuesday at the Philadelphia office of the Army's Corps of Engineers.

No Evidence Of Padding Uncovered In GOP Caucus Probe Of Fine's Budget

Harrisburg, (AP)—A top GOP leader declared that the opening round yesterday of a Senate Republican probe into the Commonwealth's $1,220,000,000 budget failed to uncover evidence of padding.

"I haven't seen anything in the discussions to date to warrant a possible reduction in the budget," Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter), caucus chairman, told reporters at the close of the day's session.

Answering a reporter's question as to whether he was supporting the administration's program in the probe, Berger stated:

"I am not taking up anybody's cudgels in this thing—if it is right it is right, if it isn't it isn't."

Fire Damages Plymouth Plant
Plymouth (AP)—Fire broke out yesterday in the Leslie-Fay Fashion factory, destroying thousands of completed dresses and causing damage which may reach $1,000,000.

Volunteer firemen from Plymouth and surrounding towns fought the blaze. About 50 employees were driven from the three-story brick building.

Plant General Manager Julius Schoenfeld gave the damage estimate.

The fire started shortly after the day shift of workers had left. No one was injured.

Origin of the fire was not immediately determined.

Kumsong Next Goal Of U. N. Tanks, Troops

Somewhere In Korea, Saturday (AP) — The U.S. Eighth Army commander, Lt. General James A. Van Fleet, said today he expected "a third round of the Chinese spring offensive."

"The Communists" declared intention still is to throw us into the sea," Van Fleet said on a flying visit to an Allied division.

"We do expect a third round of the Chinese spring offensive." The general said the Chinese have "sufficient reserve units" to begin such an attack.

He did not say when such an offensive might come. However, the Communists have long been expected to attack simultaneously with the arrival of the rainy season, now due.

Tokyo, Saturday (AP)—Allied armored fingers reached out yesterday from the west and south toward Kumsong, Chinese Red re-doubt in central Korea 29 miles north of Pusan 38.

Between the advancing United Nations forces, Red rear guards fought bitterly for their only main escape route from the fallen "iron triangle."

In the west, where the Communist main line has been close to the 38th parallel, the Reds were reported making a deep withdrawal. Allied patrols ranged four miles beyond the U. N. front without finding the foe.

On the rugged east-central front, U. N. soldiers slogged through a torrential rain toward new Communist defenses east of Hwachon reservoir and north of Yangu and Inje.

Heavy artillery fire screened a Red withdrawal. Allied artillery answered with a thundering barrage.

AP Correspondent Don Huth said the war was at a "where do we go from here?" phase—involving tactical questions of whether to drive north with hold entrapped strokes or just keep up slow, even pressure until the Communists tire of it.

Huth said the answer should not be long in coming.

The Allied armored threat in central Korea was aimed at Kumsong, toward which the Reds have been falling back northeastward up the road from Allied-won Kumsuwa.

West of Kumsong, Allied tank forces mopped up in the broad Pongyang Valley. South of it, tanks rumbled through a narrow gorge and reached Chupa, within nine miles of Kumsong. Only small arms fire opposed this push.

The ridges bordering Kumsong thick with Reds pulling out of the Chonwon-Kumhwa-Pyongyang triangle.

Safety Experts Denounce Traffic Ticket Fixing
Washington (AP)—Safety experts yesterday denounced the fixing of traffic tickets as an "unwholesome and un-American practice."

The President's highway safety conference, winding up a three-day meeting, adopted unanimously a report which said:

"Conscientious police and court officials abhor the evils of ticket fixing and should steadily work to eradicate the unwholesome and un-American practice."

The conference also declared: "The killing and maiming of human beings by motor vehicles has reached a point where it is a national emergency."

It suggested one remedy: Stiffer jail sentences for violators.

One traffic judge, Roy Degrief of Seattle, contributed a footnote to this theory.

"I put a boy in jail for 18 days for speeding," he said. "When he got out, a traffic policeman picked him up on his way home doing 80 miles an hour on his motorcycle. Jail sentences aren't always the answer."

New Bid To Russia
Washington (AP) — The western powers made a new bid to Russia yesterday for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting to ease tensions in Europe. They assured the Russians they will get a chance to denounce the North Atlantic defense pact and American bases abroad even though those subjects are not on the agenda.

Class To Give Flags To Church

Two beautiful silk flags will be presented Sunday morning to the Stroudsburg Methodist church by the Faithful class of the Church school. Clarence D. Ackerman, president of the class of nearly one hundred men, will make the presentation of the American and Christian Flags and Dr. Paul H. Shiffer will receive them for the Board of Trustees of the church.

The ceremony will be made colorful by the assistance of the color guard of the East Stroudsburg American Legion Post No. 346, Drum and Bugle Corps under the leadership of Earl R. Palmer, vice commander of the post.

It is expected that a large number of the members of Post No. 346 will be in attendance with their families for this Flag day service. Members and their families will assemble at the American Legion home at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. Walter S. Johnston, minister of the Stroudsburg Methodist church will preach on the theme, "When Our Flag Goes By." Albert J. Fregans, minister of music, and the Senior choir of the church will provide the musical setting for this hour of practical worship which will also honor Father's day.

Critics Loud In Praise Of Lovely Actress Who Will Reign As Laurel Time Queen

Few actresses have won such a set of critical mash notes as did lovely screen star Ruth Hussey—who will be crowned Queen of Laurel Blossom Time at Shawnee Inn during the June 20 Laurel ball—in the Howard Lindsay-Russell Crouse comedy "State of the Union".

Miss Hussey will be made Queen of Laurel Time in the Poconos at a coronation ceremony to be colorfully staged at midnight June 20, following a ball with music by Tommy Tucker's band of the year and a fashion show presented by leading American designers at Shawnee Inn. Miss Hussey is brought here through efforts of Mrs. Pauline Stearns of Pocono Playhouse, Canadensis, where the actress will be starred during week of June 25.

Rev. Eichner, Former Local Pastor, Dies

Rev. Dr. Floyd L. Eichner, 62, who served as pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Stroudsburg, died at his home in Philadelphia at 4:15 p. m. yesterday after a brief illness. Dr. Eichner was stricken with a heart attack last Monday.

He had been pastor of the Advent Lutheran church, Philadelphia many years. A graduate of Muhlenberg College, Allentown, he had also served as a member of the board of trustees of that institution.

Dr. Eichner was in Stroudsburg only a few weeks ago to attend an "old timers" meeting of the Stroudsburg Kiwanis club. He was a charter member and past president of the club. His pastorate here covered 15 years from 1912, when he was ordained, until going to Philadelphia in 1927.

He was also a graduate of the Lutheran Theological Seminary Philadelphia.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Helen Shupp Eichner, a native here; sons, Rev. Myron Eichner, Trinity Lutheran church, Ephrata, Pa. and Orin, a student at Lutheran Theological Seminary, Mount Airy, and a daughter, Miriam.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday in the Advent Lutheran church, Philadelphia.

Four-County Firemen To Parade Today

Lansford — More than 5,000 firemen of the Four-County Firemen's association will march here today in the 54th annual convention parade.

Marchers will begin forming at 1 p. m. and step off an hour later for the Lansford athletic field.

During election yesterday three Monroe county men were chosen for executive positions in the association's governing body.

Jay Snover, of East Stroudsburg, was elected first vice president; J. A. Everitt, Stroudsburg, was elected secretary, and Arthur Kitzman, Stroudsburg, was named to the resolution committee.

Other officers elected are Ray Rogers, president, Northampton; Nevin Fritzinger, second vice president, of Cementon, representing Lehigh county; George L. Hummel, third vice president, East Mauch Chunk, representing Carbon county; Clarence Templeton, fourth vice president, Hellertown, representing Northampton county.

Also elected to office were Rev. R. H. Krauss, chaplain, Hellertown; Kline S. Wernett, treasurer, Lansford; Wilbur R. Noll, trustee for five years, Lehigh-ton.

Others named to the resolutions committee are John E. Laurer, Lansford, chairman; Wilbur R. Noll.

Chief Burgess Evan H. Whildin gave the address of welcome yesterday as 200 official delegates assembled to begin the convention.

Arthur F. Everitt, chairman of the association's executive committee, gave the response to the address and accepted the key to the borough from Chief Burgess Whildin. Mr. Everitt, in turn, presented it to Michael B. Krell, outgoing president who is in charge of the convention.

Memorial services were held at 11 a. m. for ten association members who died since the last convention. Two of this number who were honored were J. M. Bunnell, of East Stroudsburg, and Lewis Shiffer, Stroudsburg.

The service was conducted by Rev. Krauss. Appropriate music was presented by the Lansford High school ensemble.

During the business session two new companies were admitted to the association. They are Macungie and Cedarville Fire Companies.

Several reports were given, one by Secretary J. A. Everitt, of Stroudsburg.

The by-laws were amended increasing death benefits from $60

New Students To Enroll At High School

All students entering ninth, tenth, 11th or 12th grade of Stroudsburg High school for the first time next September are asked to register at the high school office some time during the coming week, Monday, June 18, through Friday, June 22.

At this time complete information will be taken about the new students, high school offerings will be explained and schedules will be made out for the coming year.

Principal Alfred W. Munson said this does not apply to students who have already registered and filed their schedule.

To $75 and trustees were authorized to invest $500 in government bonds.

Northampton was selected as the convention site for 1952. The Northampton Fire Co. will celebrate its golden anniversary next year.

East Mauch Chunk Fire Co. requested the convention for 1954, when they will celebrate their 100th anniversary.

Principal speaker at the convention was Ross E. Blodgett, coordinator of civil defense in Allegheny county.

He said the State is so per cent unprepared as far as civil defense is concerned. This is not the firemen's fault, he declared, but the blame lies with "our leaders and legislature, where they still play politics."

Blodgett stated the result of this unpreparedness is exposing people to great risks. He said the lack of coordination is "due to sabotage in organizations."

Commending the part firemen are playing, he emphasized the importance of placing civil defense on the highest possible plane without delay.

New officers were inducted by Arthur F. Everitt and during the banquet last night in the high school auditorium, he presented a gold wrist watch to President Krell on behalf of the association.

Her performance in "State of the Union" as the president wife of a potential presidential candidate—she was co-starred with Ralph Bellamy—for a solid year sparked that great success into winning the Pulitzer prize.

The critics again found her a welcome addition to Broadway during a four month sojourn as the charming congresswoman in "Goodbye, My Fancy" in 1949. Providence-born Miss Hussey attended Pembroke College, from which she was graduated a bachelor of philosophy. On Sept. 19, 1905, she returned to the campus for one of her proudest achievements—the conferring upon her of an honorary doctorate in fine arts.

In search of a career, she tried her hand first at a Boston business college, but decided that shorthand and typing weren't exactly for her, then went on to further dramatic work at the University of Michigan School of the Drama.

Before her successful Broadway debut, she had preliminary skirmishes with the theater in school plays and with the Providence Players and in Michigan had a season of stock at Northport, then returned to Providence for a season long job as a radio fashion commentator.

Her first professional acting came about quite suddenly. While vacationing in New York she naively decided to contact several of the top Broadway producers. To her surprise she was offered a part on the subway circuit in "The Old Maid" and after a short tour found she had found her metier. The season following, she embarked on a national tour as Kay, the heroine of "Dead End". When the attraction visited Los Angeles, she was signed to an MGM contract.

She won an Academy award nomination in her second film "The Philadelphia Story". In private life she is the wife of C. Robert Longnecker, television executive, and the mother of two sons, aged six and four. Recent theatrical activities on the West Coast include stock at Laguna and La Jolla in "Dream Girl" and "The Guardsman."

On Christmas day, 1950, she earned the distinction of being the most televised actress in the nation when she appeared as Mary in "The Joyful Hour". In addition she recently appeared in star roles on Lux TV, Nash Air-Flyte Theater and the Pulitzer Prize Playhouse. Recently she has brightened the screen in such films as "The Great Gatsby", "Loulisa", the Music Hall's current "Mr. Music" and the forthcoming Hal Wallis comedy "Junior."

Amzi Altemose Campaigns For Commissioner

Brodheads-ville — Amzi F. Altemose, building contractor in this region for 23 years, said yesterday he will make an active campaign for the Republican nomination for county commissioner.

A native and life-long resident of Monroe county, Mr. Altemose is now sheriff of Monroe county. He was appointed in 1949 to fill the unexpired term of the late Sheriff Eugene A. Serfass.

Mr. Altemose's first attempt to seek a county office in 1943 resulted in his being elected the first Republican sheriff in the history of the county. He served a full four-year term.

In addition to his building contractor activity, Mr. Altemose has also engaged extensively in farming operations in the past. He is a property owner in this region.

Mr. Altemose is married and has two children. He is a member and deacon of Reformed church at Brodheads-ville and several fraternal and service organizations.

"If I am favored with the Republican nomination and am elected, I shall render the same faithful service as a commissioner as I have as sheriff," Mr. Altemose said yesterday.

Leber Guest At Farewell

Bangor — A farewell dinner was given Frank Leber, of 16 S. First St., last night at Ocker's tavern, Johnsonville.

Leber, an employee of Julius Kayser Co. for the past 20 years is being transferred to the company's plant at Westminster, S.C.

He has been a resident of Bangor for the past 11 years and was transferred from the Kayser plant in Brooklyn, N.Y. when he came to Bangor.

Joe Bucher, chief storekeeper at the Bangor plant, served as toastmaster at the dinner. Some 46 employees attended. He presented Leber with a gift on behalf of his co-workers.

Employees Miss Pauline Groner and Miss Kathryn Parry were also presented gifts in honor of their forthcoming marriage in July.

Geraldine Warner Is Bride Of Woodrow Keiper, Scotrun

Scot Run—Miss Geraldine Lee Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Warner, of Scot Run, became the bride of Woodrow Wilson Keiper, son of Milo Keiper, of Long Pond on Thursday, June 14, at St. John's Lutheran church. Rev. Garnet Zimmerman performed the ceremony.

The wedding was held on the 33rd wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white tulle with a bustle back, short sleeves, and matching faille mitts, and a white tulle faille picture hat. She carried an arm bouquet of white calla lilies and white carnations.

Miss Jean Anglemire, of Bartonville, was her maid of honor and wore pink tulle with champagne mits and picture hat. She carried an arm bouquet of pink and yellow carnations.

Francis Altemose, of Long Pond, was best man, and Donald Kinsley, of Pocono Summit, a cousin of the bride was an usher.

The church was filled with pink and white peonies, mock orange blossoms and roses, and a bouquet of white and pink gladioli and white delphinium and laurel. Mrs. Arlene Kresge was organist and Miss Dawn Peech-atka was soloist. She sang "Because," and "I Love You Truly".

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Tannersville fire hall with approximately 150 guests present. The bride's table was decorated with pink and white crepe paper and a white wedding bell hung over the center. There was a three-tiered wedding cake, and in keeping with Flag day, the candles were red, white, and blue and there were flags and tri-colored candies on each of the smaller tables.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue sheer dress with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

After a honeymoon in Bushkill, Mr. and Mrs. Keiper will make their home in Scot Run with the bride's parents. The bride's going-away costume was of fuchsia tulle with white accessories and a white top. She wore a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The bride who is a graduate of Pocono High school is employed in the laundry at Pocono Manor. Mr. Keiper, a veteran of 7 years service with the U. S. Army, of which four were spent overseas, is also employed at Pocono Manor.

Around The Stroudsburgs

Mr. and Mrs. Richard MacDonough celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary yesterday. Their home is in Marshall's Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith of 425 North Eighth St. attended the graduation of Mrs. Smith's niece, Marie Wilson, at Hacketts-town, N. J. Miss Wilson is a granddaughter of Mrs. Fred Knorr, Stroudsburg. Mrs. Mary Philhower accompanied the Smith's to the exercises.

Mrs. B. M. Linaberry, Center St., Stroudsburg, and her daughter, Miss Audrey Linaberry will leave today for a week's vacation at the Lincoln hotel in Ocean City, N. J.

Many Hands Make Possible New Girl Scout Camp Here

How community cooperation can snow-ball is being demonstrated in concrete form high on Mosier's Knob where next week the walls of the central building of the Monroe County Girl Scout's own camp will begin to rise.

The land itself, fifteen acres on the hill overlooking the Delaware above Shawnee, was given to the Girl Scout Council of Monroe County by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Treible before his death. The Kiwanis club came to the rescue of the camp committee, of which Mrs. William Miller is chairman, while they were trying to figure out how they could build a shelter on the camp property.

The Kiwanis club, through Parke Kunkle, club chairman of the Boys and Girls work committee, has agreed to furnish all the material for what they hope will be the first of a series of buildings there. Through the help of Gilbert Smrz and the Line Material Company, they will be able to furnish material for a much larger building than was at first contemplated.

The building, which will be 30 by 35 feet, will be large enough not only to serve present camping needs, but also to be used as a recreation center if the camp is enlarged.

Rinker and Kiefer have donated their services to draw up the plans for the building. Edward C. Hess donated his services to survey the boundaries of the land, and Floyd Butz contributed the recording fee. Harold C. Edwards is handling the legal aspects as his contribution.

Harvey Huffman, contractor, has volunteered to supervise the actual construction of the building, all of which will be done by volunteer help. The camping committee will mark out the definite site on Sunday afternoon, and next week all persons interested in the Girl Scouts and with building skills or willing hands can begin the actual work, which they hope to speed through. Anyone wishing to help may call Mr. Huffman, or Mrs. William Miller, whose telephone number is 3388.

In addition to being on the Dean's list for his high scholastic standing during the past two years, he has also played lacrosse and was captain of the soccer team during his senior year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers G. Wheaton, of 306 Claremont Ave., Stroudsburg, and a grandson of Mrs. Walter Wheaton Jr., of Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Lillian J. Scott, of Rockland St., Springfield, Mass.

His parents were down for the graduation exercises, and Scott's wife, the former Mary Jane Daily, daughter of Mrs. Olive Daily, of Oil City, Pa., and their nine-month-old son Scott Rodgers Wheaton Jr. returned with them to Stroudsburg for a visit.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Tannersville fire hall with approximately 150 guests present. The bride's table was decorated with pink and white crepe paper and a white wedding bell hung over the center. Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. O'Connor, of Monroe, N.Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Du Bois, to William Henry Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Taylor of 500 Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

Miss O'Connor is a senior at Syracuse University, where she is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

Mr. Taylor, a grandson of the late Attorney Cicero Gearhart, was graduated from Syracuse University in the class of 1950, where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi. He is now with the U.S. Army, attending Leadership Training school.

Piano Recital Is Held At Zion Church

A piano recital featuring the music of Haydn, Brahms, Chopin, and a fantasy of Noah's Ark was presented last night at the Zion Reformed church school by the students of Lucy F. Quig. A silver offering will be used for the benefit of the church school's piano fund.

Mrs. Herbert Buzzard, Carl Wolff and H. Lyle Thomas assisted in some of the numbers with their violins.

Peggy Ebel and Stephen Jones opened the recital with a duet, and the pre-school students demonstrated with piano songs, and a rhythm band, directed in turn by Ramona Belcher, Billy Clark, Johnnie Quig and Dannie Hill.

The "Haydn Story" was told by Alice Burrows and featured his music in a solo by Betty Lou Owens, and his "Kinder Symphonie C Major" by the Rhythm Band.

A group of seven solos followed with Peggy Ebel, Billy Reidmiller, Mary Jane Serfass and her mother, Barbara Hill, Bethany Denning, Faith Zahorik and Arlene Evans taking part.

The "Brahms Story" was told by Alice Burrows and his music was presented in solos by Christine Clark, Zona Paul, and Pauline Repsher, with a duet by Camille Buzzard and Mrs. Quig.

The second half of the program included vocal solos by Pauline Repsher, solo by Camille Buzzard, and a duo with Betty Lou Owens.

Barbara Hill told the "Noah and the Ark Story" with solos by Kay Altemose, Stephen Jones, and Barbara Hill, and songs by Mary Jane Serfass and Faith Zahorik.

Nancy Hartman was soloist in a group of piano numbers and Christine Clark told the "Chopin Story" illustrated by Arlene Evans, Alice Burrows, and Beatrice Smith.

The final group featured Danny Neidort, Carol Hilyard, Alice Burrows, Christine Clark, Pauline Repsher, and Beatrice Smith in solo and duet numbers.

Beatrice Smith directed the Kinder Symphonie, with Louise Gorman as accompanist and the other students on tonettes, triangles, tambourines, castanets, bells, cymbals and drums.

Jean Ann Quig and Susan Warner served as ushers.

Girls In Program

The Girls Guild of the Zion Reformed church will be in charge of the entertainment at the meeting of the Women's Guild of the church to be held Tuesday night at 8 p.m. at the church.

Children's Day Program Held At Pocono Union

Henryville — During the Sunday school hour in Pocono Union church, the Children's day program was presented with Mrs. William Stewart and Mrs. Richard Post in charge. After the opening hymn and scripture reading, two selections were sung by all the children.

"The First Children's Day" was then recited by Betty Smith. An exercise "Cheer" was given by Bonnie Strunk, Tommy Strunk, Jimmy Post, Dolores Tucker, and Jacqueline Stewart. A recitation "Birds Were Singing Gaily" by Nancy Wood, after which she with Carol Stewart, Patsy Tucker, Bobby Post and Harrison Stewart sang "Jesus Loves Me."

Hildegard Baumann played a piano solo. Harrison Stewart recited "Fishing." Alice Strunk recited "A Little Rosebud." An exercise "Jewels" was given by Patsy Tucker, Bobby Post, Carol Stewart, Shirley Strunk, Gerald and Jeffrey Seragien, after which Mrs. William Stewart sang, "Jewels."

Anna May Hartshorn recited "Praising God," after which "The Offering" was recited by Patsy Tucker and Bobby Post, at which time the offering was received.

The birthday celebration was then held for all members having birthdays between February and June. The following placed their offerings in the birthday box and were presented with birthday pins and "cakes" by Mrs. Paul Barry: Shirley Strunk, Tommy Strunk, Bobby Post, Alice Strunk, Alice Hartshorn, Richard Post and William Stewart. The closing song was "Everybody Ought to Love Jesus."

Booster Night At Cherry Valley Grange

Cherry Valley — The regular meeting of the Cherry Valley Grange, No. 1821 was booster night on Tuesday with the public invited as guests. Singing with Mrs. Clyde Levergood opened the meeting at which Worthy Master Harold Dennis presided.

He explained the purpose of the grange, and Tracy Stright, a former worthy master praised the increase in grange membership. The grange, he said, is the largest family organization in the world.

Former state deputy James Clapham described present projects of the grange.

District Forester E. Clyde Pyle was the guest speaker who spoke on conservation of forests and soils. His assistant, Paul Drury, also spoke briefly. Mr. Pyle showed moving pictures.

Israel Krohn Addresses Bangor Club

Bangor — Israel Krohn, Easton attorney, was the guest speaker at the Bangor Kiwanis club weekly dinner meeting Thursday night at the Colonial hotel.

Mr. Krohn spoke on "Our Blessed Flag," stressing the continuance of our American way of life. He also reminded the 43 members and guests that we have some known thirty or forty thousand Communists operating in the U. S.

Mr. Krohn was introduced by Ernest Turzot, program chairman.

Other guests included: Rev. Richard Rettew, new pastor of the Presbyterian church in Bangor; George Seitz, Allentown; William A. Williams, Allentown and George Shubick, Bangor.

Ken Masters, chairman of the agriculture committee, reported a recent Kiwanis-Farmers night banquet during the business session. The miniature train recently purchased for the Bangor park is going to be marked "Kiwanis Limited." The Kiwanis also went on record to sponsor additional Kiddy Land equipment.

James Drury served as song master, William Bray acted as song leader, and Rev. S. H. Hamm gave the invocation.

Lafayette Buys Industrial Plant For $6,000,000

St. Louis (AP)—Lafayette College of Easton, Pa., has purchased the St. Louis Car Co., in a $6,000,000 transaction.

The sale was negotiated by the Marquis foundation, a non-profit corporation formed to acquire property for the benefit of the school.

The announcement was made by Edwin B. Meissner and his son, Edwin Jr., company officials. They said they agreed to sell their 86,709 shares of stock for cash and notes at $60 a share. The foundation is to offer to buy the other 13,291 shares of other stockholders under the same terms.

Lafayette College is expected to pay off the notes from company earnings. The firm showed gross earnings of $367,000 for the year ending last October 31.

The company builds light-weight noise-proof streetcars, elevated and subway cars, and electric trackless trolleys. It produced amphibious tanks for the government during World War Two.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Coplay American Legion's misfortune was the best stroke of luck to hit Pocono A. C. since the Monroe County entry in the Blue Mountain League was formed last spring. Just when the Pocono A. C. pitching was showing signs of falling far off its early season pace, Ray Steele and Alden "Red" Fetherman were declared ineligible at Coplay and both have returned to the Pocono A. C. roster. Fetherman and Steele are two of the finest athletes in the history of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools respectively, but each is more well known in baseball than any other sport.

Steele, who compiled an almost unbelievable high school record will get a chance to show his stuff against older and more experienced players in the Blue Mountain League. Steele's appearance in this circuit will also give major league scouts a chance to see the tall right handed pitcher in action under tougher circumstances, and you can bet your life that plenty of ivory hunters will be making appearances at Gordon Giffels field before the present summer passes into history. Fetherman will undoubtedly divide his time between the outfield and pitching mound for Pocono A. C.

Don Lang, secretary of the East Bangor entry in the Blue Mountain League, has reportedly resigned his position and a replacement hasn't been named as yet. Al Bachman, reserve combination outfielder-infielder for Pocono A. C., will be out of action for at least a month with a badly smashed finger. Oscar J. Liljenstam, athletic director at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, the commissioner of the East Stroudsburg Little League, while Gene Martin, football coach and dean of men at the same college, is assisting with the management of the Peters-Arnold-Howell club in the Eastburg circuit.

Eddie Kobesky veteran baseball campaigner who annually brought his Batavia, Pony League, club to Giffels field for an exhibition contest with the Poconos, was recently discharged from a hospital after treatment for ulcers. Before entering the hospital Ed blasted a pinch-hit, grand-slam homer and shortly after his discharge took over the mound as a relief hurler. Kobesky's just a tough man to keep down. Joe Mayer, former Carbondale, North Atlantic League, infielder is now a member of the Schenectady, Eastern League, roster.

Marv Jones, catcher with the Carbondale club last year, is currently hitting .402 for Bradford, of the Pony League. Jones is currently riding the bench with an injury. Ben Cardoni, manager of the Hazleton club, North Atlantic League, for a portion of the 1949 campaign and now pitching for the Scranton entry in the Eastern League, was honored recently by his home town friends from Jess-up, Cardoni and Frank Radler, manager of the Stroudsburg Poconos for the past three years, were teammates sometime ago on the Hartford roster, in the same Eastern League, before Cardoni suffered an arm injury.

Bangor High will reportedly use a combination of the single-wing and "T" formation next football season. Lyle Kraw, ESSTC shortstop this spring, was supposed to play with Roseto the entire summer, but the lanky shortstop returned to Shafersburg, near Lebanon, his home town. Louis "Doc" Helman will operate the concession at Giffels field for the remainder of the summer on days Pocono A. C. plays at home. The eighth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic will be held all next week at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Some of the top coaching talent in the business will be on hand starting Monday, with Princeton's Charles Caldwell leading the parade. Although the clinic enrollment wasn't up to that of last year at a late hour yesterday, those attending the affair will represent virtually every section of the United States. This will be the seventh time that the clinic has been held at the local college. Dick Pritchard, shortstop and pitcher for the Roseto club, was nicknamed "Rabbit" in New England's Northern League last summer.

Jim Driebe is doing a great job as official scorer for the Stroudsburg Little League, despite the fact he is working without a score book. Joe Aneda, former Glen Brook pro, names Stan Dudas as one of the future greats in the golf profession. Stan, a member of the Shawnee professional staff, was recently drafted into the army and is stationed at Fort Mead, Md. at the present time. Louis DePaul, recently named vice-president of the Pocono High School Alumni Association, is a former basketball and baseball star at that school.

John Dimmick has been greenskeeper at the Shawnee Inn course since the course was built in 1911. This course will be host to the Invitation Tournament starting next Thursday.

Pocono A. C. Faces Portland In Blue Mountain Tilt

Steele To Take Mound Against Apollos

Pocono A. C. will attempt to move right back into the middle of the Blue Mountain league pennant fight tomorrow, when Manager John Schoonover and company play host to the Portland Apollos at Gordon Giffels field. All Blue Mountain league encounters get underway at 2:30 p.m.

Ray Steele, youthful right hander, is scheduled to do the pitching for the A. C. contingent, while the veteran Bill Greenmoyer will probably receive the mound assignment for the Apollos from Manager Lefty "Cheesy" Egbert.

Pocono A. C. will open the game with John Drew behind the plate. Danny Epley on first base, Dewey Martling, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop and Tom "Lem" Bonser, third base.

The outfield will be set with Don Sweda in center and Bob Shick in right, but Doug Schoonover will be unable to play due to an injured leg. Russell "Lindy" Tranter or Dick Schaller will take up the vacant position, according to the pitching selected by the Portland interests.

Tie

Pocono A. C. is currently tied for fourth place with West Bangor, with seven wins and three setbacks. West Bangor also faces a tough foe tomorrow when it invades Roseto Park to meet the league leading Roseto A. A. contingent.

In the only game between the Roseto and West Bangor clubs this year, the former came up with a 5-0 victory, on the wings of Dick Pritchard's one-hit performance. Both clubs have been aided by new additions since their last meeting.

Roseto is expected to field its strongest combination since the 1951 season got underway, with pitching strength such as Tom Foley, former Analomink ace; Bob Muhr, one-hit victor over Pocono A. C.; Bill Braun and Pritchard, who are capable of playing almost any position on the club. John "Lefty" Janny, of Northampton, is also a member of the pitching staff that has placed Roseto at the top of the heap at the present time.

East Bangor will attempt to protect its second place margin while playing host to Stockertown. The home club is certainly one of the league powers, but was held to a 3-3 deadlock by this same Stockertown team last Tuesday.

The final game on tomorrow's agenda will find the vastly improved Tatum club playing at Johnsonville.

Cincinnati Trips Braves

Cincinnati (AP)—Knucklebaling Willard Ramsdell set down the Boston Braves with seven hits last night while hurling the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-1 triumph that broke a three-game losing streak. The Reds clinched matters in the first inning with a two-run start against Max Surkont.

Errors Hurt

Surkont was not hit too hard, for only six of the Reds' ten safeties were against him. But four Boston errors ruined the big righthander's chances.

A single by Bob Adams, a walk to Connie Ryan and a wild pitch set the stage for Johnny Wyrostek's two-run single in the opening frame. The Reds also scored Surkont in both the third and sixth frames.

Then they bunched three singles against Bob Chipman for two more tallies in the eighth.

Washington Downs Cleveland, 4-2

Washington (AP)—Don Johnson held Cleveland to three scattered hits as Washington defeated the Indians, 4-2, last night. Johnson fanned seven in capturing his second straight decision, the only two games the Senators have won in their last 12.

The Senators pounced on Early Wynn for three runs in the fifth inning to overcome a two-run deficit and dealt Wynn his eighth defeat against four wins.

Freak Homer

Harry Simpson staked Cleveland to a 2-0 lead in the fifth with a freak home run. His hit to left field rolled into the gutter in front of the field boxes and he circled the bases before Coan could retrieve the ball.

PAH, Penn-Stroud Gain Nods In Little League Encounters

Peters-Arnold-Howell took the measure of the East Stroudsburg National Bank in last night's official opening of the East Stroudsburg Little League, 8-7, at the East Stroudsburg Playground. The game was held as part of the postponed Flag day ceremonies and Chief Burgess LeRoy J. Kleinle threw out the first ball.

Penn-Stroud Hotel picked up a 24-10 verdict over the Stroudsburg National Bank in a Stroudsburg Little League contest at Stroudsburg Playground. The game featured a total of 16 errors, ten by the losing club.

Big Inning

A four-run outburst by the PAH club in the sixth and final frame broke up the East Stroudsburg contest, despite the fact that the East Stroudsburg National Bank came back with one counter in the bottom of the same frame.

The Stroudsburg affair was close until the fifth and sixth, when the Penn-Stroud power accounted for 16 runs in the final two frames.

Louis Stops Savold In Sixth Round

Former Champ Holds Edge From Start

New York (AP)—The old Jose Louis dynamite exploded on ring-rusty Lee Savold in 2:29 of the sixth round last night for a sensational knock-out win over the blood-smearing veteran recognized as world champion in Britain.

Looking his best since he started up the long comeback trail toward a promised September date with champion Ezzard Charles, the 37-year-old Bomber received a terrific ovation as he strode from the ring. A power-laden left hook out of a flurry of punches dumped 35-year-old Savold on the deck for the only knockdown of the scrap.

Lee struggled to get up and was just about to make it when referee Ruby Goldstein entangled his bloody hulk in his arms.

Spouting red like a fountain from a battered nose that probably was broken, Savold was cut down methodically by Louis who made good his pre-fight prediction to the exact round.

"I think I'll knock him out in the sixth," he said at Pompton Lakes ten days ago.

He hit it right on the nose—Savold's nose that is.

The old Louis left jab, always a ramrod that sent opponents' faces bobbing like apples at a Halloween party, was at its best. Seidom did he miss his mark, time after time he followed it with a crunching short right uppercut as part of a three punch combination that wound up with another hook.

Lone Flurry

Only in the fifth when a long right hand lead nailed Louis on the jaw, did Savold damage the Bomber. Joe wavered as if hurt but he shook it off and another right that followed.

Trim and sharp at 21½ to Savold's 190, Louis lived up to the 19 to five odds favoring him by winning all the way. The AP card gave Savold only one round, the fifth.

This "battle of the aged" as it had been called by men as a gag turned out to be quite a show of Louis' determination to cap his comeback with another Charles fight.

Joe is obsessed by a desire to become the first heavyweight champion ever to win back the title he held so many long years.

Away from the ring since he knocked out Bruce Woodcock in London a year ago, Savold appeared way off form. His famed left jab and hook were not connecting although he took the offensive from the first bell.

Backing off to drive home that ramrod jab, the old deadpan Louis calmly cut down the hulking blond from Englewood, N.J., by way of Canby, Minn.

From the first round on, Savold wore a pained expression on his face, as though surprised at the old start in Louis' jab. His nose started to bleed in the second. By the fourth round his face was smeared. Then in the sixth it really poured out to gush over ringsiders every time Louis pulled the trigger.

A surprisingly large crowd poured into the Garden through a drizzle to see this contest, twice postponed and finally moved from the Polo Grounds to the inside arena.

Giants Triumph Over Pirates

Pittsburgh (AP)—The New York Giants sparked by catcher Wes Westrum's ninth and tenth homers of the season, crushed a ninth inning rally of the Pittsburgh Pirates last night to win 11-6. It was Jim Hearn's sixth victory of the season against three defeats.

Westrum connected for his first homer in the fifth after two walks by Pirate pitcher Bob Friend and an error had loaded the bases.

Second Blow

The second circuit clout came in the ninth with one aboard.

The Pirate rally accounted for four runs in the ninth. Two crossed the plate on a wild throw by Bill Rigney. Glenn Nelson accounted for two more with a double to left center. The crowd of 22,746 saw the threat ended there.

Hearn allowed the Pirates ten hits but kept them well scattered as the Giants won their fourth straight. The Bucs got no more than two hits in any one inning.

Yankees, Dodgers Strengthen Pennant Chances As Six Clubs Beat Midnight Trading Deadline

Six major league baseball clubs, racing to meet the midnight deadline on trades, engaged in wholesale swaps yesterday with every indication the New York Yankees, St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers definitely strengthened themselves.

Here is how the trades shaped up:

Chicago Cubs—sent outfielder Andy Pafko, pitcher Johnny Schmitz, catcher Al Walker and second baseman Wayne Terwilliger to Brooklyn Dodgers—for southpaw pitcher Joe Hatten, catcher Bruce Edwards, infielder Eddie Miksis and outfielder Gene Hermanski.

New York Yankees—acquired Bob Kuzava from Washington Senators—who received Fred Sanford, Tom Ferrick, and Bob Portfield. All are pitchers.

St. Louis Cardinals—acquired Wally Westlake, infielder, and Cliff Chambers, left-hand pitcher from Pittsburgh Pirates—who received southpaw pitcher Howie Pollet, catcher Joe Garigiola, outfielder Bill Howerton, relief pitcher Ted Wilks, and Rookie shortstop Dick Cole.

The champion Yankees, presently running second to Chicago in the American league, landed a promising 28-year-old southpaw in Kuzava in response to manager Casey Stengel's urgent plea for pitching help.

If the Bombers gave the Washington Senators anything of importance in exchange for the front line hurler, it was not immediately apparent. They surrendered Sanford, the $100,000 "lemon"; Ferrick, a relief flinger who has done little this year, and Portfield, a righthander who has been toiling for their Kansas City farm.

Unpopular

President Clark Griffith of the Washington club said no cash was involved. Kuzava was reported to have been unpopular with manager Bucky Harris of the Senators. He had won three and lost three for a sixth place club this season.

Seven players were involved in an exchange between the Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates, the first big deal engineered by Branch Rickey since he became general manager of the Corsairs.

The Cards received two top-flight performers in Wally Westlake, one of the National League's most virile sluggers who already has whacked 16 home runs, and Cliff Chambers, a lefthander who delivered a no-hitter against Boston early in the season and who stand: 3-6 for a last place club.

In exchange the Pirates landed Pollet, whom Ricky long has coveted; Joe Garigiola, Howerton, Wilks and Cole. Again the announcement said that no cash had changed hands.

Pollet, long one of the National League's slickest moundsmen, held out obstinately this past spring, reported late and has been unable to recover his form for the Cards. His record stands at an unimpressive 0-3, but Rickey undoubtedly feels that a change of climate will prove beneficial.

Raschi Hurls Yanks To Win

New York (AP)—Vic Raschi became the first major league pitcher to win ten games as he pitched the New York Yankees to a brilliant 2-0 three-hit victory over the Detroit Tigers last night.

Raschi had a no-hitter until the sixth inning when relief pitcher Fred Hutchinson singled to break the spell. Raschi fanned eight and was in trouble only in the ninth inning.

Good Finish

The Tigers put two on base with one out in the ninth but Raschi fanned Joe Ginsberg and George Kell was doubled up trying for third.

Invitation To Be Played At Shawnee

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Top flight golfers from a dozen eastern states will be in the field of 175 qualifiers when the twenty-eighth annual Shawnee Invitation Tournament opens at the Shawnee Inn and Country club here Thursday, June 21. Match play rounds will continue on June 22, 23 and 24.

With Ed Meister, Cleveland, champion for the past two years expected back to defend his title, the field takes on additional strength with the entry of Howard Everitt, former Pennsylvania state amateur king, now playing out of Atlantic City, and Ed Heland, Bermuda champion.

Entries

Ellis Taylor, champion from Wilmington, Del.; Harry Lister, Hempstead, L. I.; Dr. Ben Pastorini, New York City; Pete Krofer, New Brunswick, N. J.; Dr. Tom Cavanaugh, Newton Centre, Mass.; Paul and Charles Hyde, Buffalo; John O'Brien, S. J. DeFazio, and Dr. T. P. McWilliams, all of Scranton and a quartet including Rudy Matern, Frank Eck, A. Straffini and B. Dobbs, all of New York City, were among recent entries.

Two former champions of other sports also are expected to be in the field at teeing off time. Howard Ehmke, Philadelphia, former star hurler for Connie Mack's Athletics, and Judge Al Cooper, Trenton, former U. S. Olympic soccer star have indicated they would be among t e hstarters.

Owners, Chandler Agree On Terms

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—Baseball and A. B. "Happy" Chandler will part company within a matter of days.

Chandler made this clear yesterday when he said he and the major league club owners had agreed on terms for his resignation.

Another Meeting

The actual formalities may take place early next week at a meeting in Cincinnati between Warren Giles, owner of the Reds, and the commissioner.

The magnate met in New York Thursday, accepted Chandler's terms and named Giles to advise Chandler.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1951
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You who would be highly individualistic, play the whole show or play it alone, will find things rather against the course. Advice is moderation, cooperation, humility and little force.
April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Excellent vibrations for business and personal affairs. Distribute efforts uniformly. After unusually well employed day, take earned rest with a good conscience.
May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Auspicious configurations to 5 p. m. financial, professional matters in high spot. Take careful survey of prospects; how much can you handle; seek further advice if needed. Guard personal affairs.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—With extra effort, any judgment especially in money, property or business matters, you can move forward. May even get good results from mediocre possibilities. Study, ask questions.
July 24 to Aug. 23 (Leo)—May encounter a little resistance here, there, being more or less on your own, properly analyzing things first is a must. Advance. You are capable, don't be tempted to down ambition.
Aug. 24 to Sept. 23 (Virgo)—Take full advantage of friendly aspects; last few most of day, get early start, be consistent, aim willing to take as well as give. Maximum results if you systematize effort.
Sept. 24 to Oct. 23 (Libra)—Very interesting day awaits you who will seek. Have confidence be cheerful. Contacts with elder, opposite sex should work out well. Be energetic, but not unkind.
Oct. 24 to Nov. 23 (Scorpio)—Check

Capacity Crowd Expected To Watch Chitwood's Thrill Program At Blakeslee Track Tonight

Blakeslee — Jole Chitwood's motor mania has a standard gag line they use just for themselves.

It goes like this, "You don't have to be crazy to drive in Chitwood's show, but it sure helps." Local patrons will see these World's Champion Auto Daredevils perform at the Pocono Sunrise Speedway tonight at 8:30 under portable floodlights, after the heavy rains washed out last Thursday's scheduled performance. A capacity crowd is expected to turn out for the Chitwood show's first appearance in the mountain area.

Long recognized as the nation's leading automotive thrill show, the show got that way just because of the devil-may-care attitude of the drivers and their boss' skill at working out new ways for them—and himself—to risk their necks.

Long History

And the ways are many. They run from terrifying head-on collisions that make the spectators shudder, to playing leap frog with brand new 1951 Ford stock sedans. Sometimes the performers wonder how they ever managed to get into such a reckless set-up.

Chitwood, the world's champion, and a full-blooded Cherokee

Indian, drifted in. He worked as a mechanic on the big cars. Then he turned to driving the speed wagons himself and developed into one of the greatest speed stars in the history of the racing game. He picked up three National AAA titles, and holds more track records in the east even today than any other living driver. He is also a nine-time money winner in the 500 mile speed classic at Indianapolis.

He always had a yen for "stunting" stock sedans, and was a close friend of the late "Lucky" Teter, who lost his life in 1942 attempting a ramp-to-ramp car leap.

Waring Music School Opens At Clemson

The Waring School of Music, famous for the past few years at Shawnee Inn, moves out to colleges and universities of the nation this year for the first time with Clemson College in South Carolina as the first stop.

Ennis Davis, director of the school, left here yesterday for Clemson and following Sunday's television show by Fred Waring and his orchestra and cast, the key people used by Mr. Waring and Mr. Davis in the school will fly to Clemson to conduct the famous school on Waring choral techniques.

Pennsylvania State College will be included on the Waring School of Music agenda in the East. Some indication in the tremendous response to Mr. Waring's offer to extend the school to colleges and universities may be seen at Penn State where 250 are already enrolled. Twenty-five states are represented.

Other institutions where Mr. Davis has set up the school include Indiana University, Southern Methodist University and the College of the Pacific.

Judge Little To Preside At Trial

Seranton (AP)—Judge Edward P. Little of Montrose will preside at the murder trial of 53-year-old Charles E. Homeyer which gets under way Monday at Tunkhannock.

The State Supreme court assigned Judge Little to the trial after Wyoming County Judge Edward B. Farr of Tunkhannock told the high court his physician had recommended a rest.

Homeyer will be tried for the slaying of his wife, Anna Snellman Homeyer, 67, whose skull and pelvis were found buried last March in the cellar of the house the couple once occupied in Factoryville. It was estimated that the trial will take 10 days to two weeks.

Bendix Aircraft Firm Buys Plant At South Montrose

New York (AP)—Bendix Aviation Corp. announced yesterday purchase of the plant of the South Montrose Manufacturing Co., South Montrose, Pa.

A new division of Bendix, to be known as the Montrose division, will be established under supervision of Raymond P. Lansing, vice president. It will employ up to 700 workers at the new location for production of equipment for the armed forces, the company said.

The purchase will add 102,000 square feet of floor space for expanded production of Bendix products. The new division is the third to be added since the Korean war increased the demand for Bendix aircraft, automotive and communications equipment.

Although yesterday's announcement did not outline plans of the South Montrose company, which produces wood specialties, it was reported to be preparing to move its operations into a new plant.

THE SHERMAN THEATER STAGE will present Wednesday, June 20, at 2:30 p.m. Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, featuring favored fairytale of young and old alike. This is one of the scenes of the stage production.

DPA Holds Up Hazleton Loan

Washington (AP)—Edwin T. Gibson, deputy defense production administrator, told a House inquiry group this week that his agency planned a "complete revision" of its defense lending policy.

As a start, he told the House executive expenditures subcommittee, DPA is withholding a proposed $7,800,000 loan to the Hazleton Steel and Tubing Corp.

The subcommittee has had several defense agencies under scrutiny for what it called "questionable" handling of the defense loans and tax concessions. It was particularly incensed about the Hazleton loan, reporting the proposal "almost defies belief" because the company's backers would have only $600 invested.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune in the year of your first love. If the number of letters is 5 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left, right, then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

CPA State Convention At Shawnee

Shawnee-on-Delaware—Former Gov. Harold H. Hoffman, of New Jersey, will be among speakers at the 54th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants June 17-20 at Shawnee inn.

Several hundred certified public accountants from across Pennsylvania will attend the gathering to elect officers and act on such problems as cooperation with the bar, endorsement of new financial reporting procedures and pending legislation affecting accountants.

The annual golf tournament and inter-chapter golf match for the R. J. Bennett cup; the inter-chapter tennis match for the tennis trophy and other sports will leaven the business activities of the meeting.

Arrangements for the annual meeting are in charge of Irving Yaverbaum, Yaverbaum & Co., Harrisburg. Assisting him are Leonard D. Goldring of the same firm in charge of registration; Norbert F. Stanny, Pittsburgh, golf; Harry G. Thomas, of Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, Philadelphia, social activities; Paul C. Spiese, of George F. Motter's Sons, York, other sports; and Herbert A. Leister, of Montgomery, McCracken, Walker & Rhoads, Philadelphia, publicity.

Women's activities during the four-day meeting include sports, card party, president's reception, tea and entertainment. In charge of these events are: General chairman, Mrs. Paul Katzen, Pittsburgh; teas and parties, Mrs. Frank S. Glendenning and Mrs. J. Cyril McGarrigle, both of Philadelphia; putting, Mrs. William W. Collins, Pittsburgh; shuffleboard, Mrs. Thomas P. Strauss, York, and golf, Mrs. John V. Bowser, Pittsburgh. The meeting opens with the president's reception Sunday night. Elections will be held at the closing session Wednesday. Business sessions are planned Monday and Tuesday.

Women To Give Entertainment

Mountainhome — At the weekly meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mountainhome Methodist church, held at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon, plans were made for the presentation of an entertainment on Tuesday, July 24. The program will be a mock trial of a breach of promise suit. This promises to be an hilarious and interesting evening. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Marjory Force, Mrs. Joseph W. Swaine and Mrs. John C. Smith, is working out the many details involved, and will make reports from time to time as the program develops.

Arrangements were also discussed for the annual bazaar to be held on Wednesday, August 15, and for which many articles of wearing apparel and household necessities as well as promises of cakes, pies and other foodstuffs have already been secured.

Mrs. Harold N. MacMurray acted as hostess, and those present included Mrs. Marjory Force, Mrs. Joseph W. Swaine, Mrs. Gerald A. Case, Mrs. John C. Smith, Miss M. Ada Stright, Miss Bertha Bugliess, Mrs. F. Wayland Ford and Mrs. Grace Case. The meeting for the coming week will be held on Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Swaine.

450 Enroll In Program

Farmers of Monroe county are using the agricultural conservation program of the Production and Marketing administration to mobilize their farms for defense, according to David H. Griffith, chairman of the county PMA and also head of the Monroe County Agricultural Mobilization committee.

Approximately 450 farms are enrolled in the county's 1951 program, and an even larger participation is expected next year, Griffith said. Even now, groundwork for the 1952 PMA program in Monroe is in the planning stage, he added.

Close coordination with other agencies will continue, he emphasized, observing that it is evident in the recent consolidation of PMA and U. S. Department of Agriculture soil conservation programs. (Under the consolidation, Atlee F. Rebert, Federal soil service consultant, has taken charge of all field work in connection with performance practices in Monroe and Pike counties.)

Griffith said another instance of this cooperation is the 1951 "green pastures" contest being sponsored by PMA. The mobilization committee, the Department of Agriculture and other services have endorsed this program, he asserted. Deadline for farm participation in Monroe county is July 1. Interested farmers may obtain entry blanks at the PMA office in the court house, the PMA-Mobilization head declared.

Cpl. Richard N. Anderson Mixes Army Life With Art

The personality column in the June 1 issue of The Eagle, published at Bel Air, Md., was devoted to Cpl. Richard N. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson, 617 Wallace St., Stroudsburg, telling how he mixes art with Army service.

Anderson, who was graduated from Stroudsburg High school and attended Penn State College and Columbia University, is presently assigned to Post S-3 as a draftsman. The column tells how he entered the Army service in September, 1946, at Camp Lee, Va., in the Army Band school and toured the European command with a special services show, "Fascinating Rhythm."

Returning to the United States in January, 1948, for discharge, he re-entered Penn State where he studied advertising. Later he transferred to Columbia, majoring in English.

Recalled in September, 1950, he was assigned to the 294th Smoke Generator Co., then to headquarters duty. He is commended for his art work at the Army Chemical center, also for special services, medical laboratories and public information office. Currently he is working on a combat course layout and in illustrating a project for present police-yourselves campaign.

Corporal Anderson hopes to return to Columbia when discharged from the service and later enter law school at Harvard.

At Least 30 Persons Die In Montreal Hospice Fire

Most Victims Believed To Be Aged Women

Montreal (AP) — Flames billowing up an elevator shaft raced through the Hospice Ste. Cunegonde yesterday, killing at least 30 persons in the ancient five-story orphanage and old peoples' home.

Many of the rescued aged were taken to hospitals suffering from shock. Others were housed in a Knights of Columbus hall nearby. Firemen reported they found four bodies about a fourth-floor window and four more near a third-floor window. The body of one woman, believed to have been a cripple, was found in a rocking chair in an upper-floor room.

Mrs. Paul-Emile Gauthier, who lives just across the street from the hospice, saw from one of her windows the first puffs of flames.

Rushing across the street and through smoke-filled corridors to the second floor, she guided 12 people to safety. She had to make six trips into the flaming building, taking her charges to safety two at a time down a narrow fire-escape stair.

People leaned out of the floors high above the street, she said, calling: "God help us. God help us."

Director Pare said the fire receded one in 1918 which took the lives of 64 infants at the grey nuns' main house on Guy St.

About 400 children and old people lived in the house. Nearly all the dead were believed to be aged women occupying upper floors.

Among the dead was Mother Superior Rita Gervais of the Roman Catholic grey nuns, who operated the hospice. With her hands clasped as if in prayer, her body was found last night by firemen still searching the debris hours after the first alarm sounded. Missing and believed dead is another nun, Sister Chauvin.

Assistant Police Inspector Herve Guilmond fixed the death toll at 30. Fire Director Wilfrid Pare said an all-night search of the smoking building would be necessary before the exact number could be determined.

The flames started near the elevator shaft and shot up to the top floors with lightning speed. In ten minutes it had spread through hallways from front to back. The death toll first was set at two—then mounted steadily as firemen were able to work through the wreckage on the upper floors of the stone and wood home, 75 years old.

The old people in the home included about a dozen blind persons, and among the children were many cripples.

Women lived on the upper floors of the building. Aged men lived on the lower floors and most of them are believed to have escaped.

There were about 200 aged residents of the hospice and 200 children, many of them orphans. All were reported safe. Twenty-four nuns led them to safety.

St. Louis Paper Sold

St. Louis (AP) — The St. Louis newspaper field was cut to two yesterday with the sale of the Star-Times to the Pulitzer-owned Post-Dispatch.

The sale, for an undisclosed sum, leaves the Post-Dispatch without competition in the afternoon field here. The city's other daily is the Globe-Democrat, a morning paper.

Publisher Elzey Roberts of the Star-Times said economic conditions forced the transaction.

The year 1951 marks the fifth consecutive year during which ever-mounting labor and material costs have risen faster than the increased revenues necessary to meet them, his announcement said.

The newspaper, which put out its last edition yesterday employed 575 persons and had a daily circulation of almost 180,000—compared with 230,000 for the Post-Dispatch.

Announcement of the sale came as a surprise to all but a few workers of the two papers.

Earle's Baby Son Denied $100,000

Philadelphia (AP)—Orphan's court ruled yesterday that Anthony Wayne Earle, 3D, baby son of former Gov. George H. Earle, 3D is not entitled to a $100,000 trust fund from the estate of his grandfather, George H. Earle Jr.

Judge Charles Klein wrote the opinion. It came as a result of an appeal taken to the court en banc from a similar opinion handed down by Judge David G. Hunter.

The grandfather died in 1928. He willed $100,000 to each grandchild bearing the name of Earle.

Judge Hunter had ruled that in the will the grandfather "intended to restrict the legacies to grandsons living at the time of his death."

Mac Invites Acheson To Explain Paper

San Antonio, Tex., (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur charged yesterday that Secretary of State Acheson used Russian-type propaganda in defending a 1949 State department document which said Formosa had no special military significance.

The five-star general bluntly challenged the secretary's explanation of the policy paper.

MacArthur did not refer to Acheson by name, but there was no doubt he was hitting out at the secretary when he said:

"We have indeed reached an astounding concept of morality when an official estimate such as that put out in December, 1949, on Formosa, is now stated to be false and to have been intentionally publicized in order to mislead public opinion."

"Propaganda of this type closely parallels the Soviet system which we so bitterly condemn. Human liberty has never survived where such practice has flourished."

The document, a memorandum, was sent out to consular officials in December, 1949, telling them the fall of Formosa to the Chinese was anticipated and to prepare public opinion for the fall. The memo also said the island had no special military significance.

This Complainant Should Have Left Well Enough Alone

Springfield, O. (AP) — A man called City Manager R. M. Holsington the other day to complain bitterly about chuckholes in his street.

So the manager sent a street official to look things over. The street official promptly reported the section of the street in question is outside the city limits.

"That can't be," complained the unidentified complainant. "After all, I get the city garbage and trash collection service and there are two city-operated street lights near my home."

Holsington had the two street lights disconnected and trash and garbage collection service suspended, and—

The big chuckholes in the street are still there.

Senate Committee Approves Extension Of Rent Controls

Washington (AP)—The Senate Banking committee voted yesterday to renew and expand the government's huge rent control program. But it recommended a raise in some of the rent ceilings.

Existing controls on about 7,000,000 private dwelling expire June 30. Shaping up a new regulation, the committee agreed to permit rents to rise 20 per cent above the 1942 ceilings in areas which came under control during the last war or shortly after it.

What this means in dollars and cents, and how many tenants it will affect, was not known immediately. The 190 areas of the country under Federal rent control already have received increases of from 10 to 30 per cent above 1942 levels, a total of 138 of them have allowed landlords to raise rents 15 per cent. So in those cases any further boost would be only 5 per cent.

New areas could be brought

Russell Invites MacArthur To Return For Testimony

Washington (AP)—Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) yesterday extended an open invitation to Gen. Douglas MacArthur to return for further testimony before the Senate committee investigating the five-star general's ouster.

Russell said MacArthur will get a chance to testify again, if he desires, because all the other witnesses had a chance to read his testimony before offering their own.

Russell made the announcement as former Secretary of Defense Johnson, concluding his testimony, told the inquiry committee he believes "we could lick Russia right now" if the Soviets decided to pick a fight.

But Johnson said he would not advocate any bold new strategy for winning the Korean war if it would touch off world war three. The former defense chief, who was in the witness chair two days, said he believes America's growing military strength, backed by powerful atomic weapons, "will prevent a war for a reasonable length of time."

One thing Russia "respects and fears" is the industrial might of the United States, he said.

Chairman Russell told newsmen that if General MacArthur accepts the invitation to return to Capitol Hill and brings up "new matters," it may be necessary to recall Secretary of Defense Marshall and the Joint Chiefs of Staff for further questioning.

Russell said he was calling off plans to hear W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's special adviser, on Monday.

He said a seven-member subcommittee has recommended that the long-drawn inquiry be closed within the next 15 days, and the full 26-member inquiry committee will act on the recommendation Monday. It will also decide on all future witnesses then, Russell added.

He said the list of proposed witnesses may undergo a "drastic reduction."

Johnson hinted strongly that he felt the State department was attempting to dominate the military and was invading the military's realm of authority.

Calling for a reorganization of the State department, Johnson said it should be the country's "diplomatic agent and not be all over the lot, handling economic aid and everything else."

Specifically, he said the State department should not be permitted to administer military aid to North Atlantic treaty countries.

"It gives me great cause for concern," he said, "because military matters ought to be handled by the military brethren."

Fresh Air Tots Arouse Wide Interest

The "251 for 51" campaign of Monroe county's Fresh Air committee is attracting interest in new quarters as well as recalls for Fresh Air youngsters by families who were hosts to the underprivileged children last year. Every effort will be made to bring 251 Fresh Airs here.

John R. Wilson, chairman of the Fresh Air committee, said yesterday that the deadline for filing applications for children is June 29. Children will be here for two weeks vacation starting July 10.

A coupon application is available on Page 2 of today's Daily Record. Fill it out and mail it to The Daily Record today.

Last year's vacation period was highly successful for hosts as well as the children. Many families were so delighted with the children they had them in their homes here for the Christmas holidays.

Many of these same families have asked for the same children back this summer and their requests are being honored.

All the children are selected from worthy groups by top social organizations of New York City and referred to New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air fund.

Every child is given a complete physical examination before he or she leaves New York. Travel expenses are paid by the fund and any medical or surgical expenses incurred while here are also paid by the fund.

In addition to the coupon in today's issue of The Daily Record applications for children may be filed by calling Radio Station WYPO 1102 or the YMCA 832.

Ship Strike Threatens

New York (AP) — The threat of a West coast maritime strike faded last night but East and Gulf coast walkouts appeared imminent as the deadline approached.

West coast shipping unions either extended contract negotiations beyond the deadline or began balloting on tentative agreements.

Contract talks concerning three East and Gulf coast unions have been deadlocked here for days on contract issues.

Hope of averting the eastern walkouts waned late in the day when President Truman declined to step into the dispute.

Even before that, some ship departures were reported delayed by crewmen's complaints of equipment not being in working order.

In previous years, before contract deadlines, some crews held up sailings on long voyages until they were assured of satisfactory contracts.

The three CIO unions involved in the current contract dispute want a 40-hour week at sea, higher wages and other benefits.

A committee representing 40 shipping companies remained in session with union representatives here trying to agree on terms, but there were no hopeful signs.

Rail Unions To Consider Offer

Washington (AP)—The railroad's latest contract offer in the long deadlocked dispute will be considered June 27 by union representatives.

Heads of the engineers, firemen and engineers, and conductors unions yesterday called 500 rank and file members to Washington on that date. Although they declined to discuss the offer or their reaction to it, it was understood to be virtually the same as that accepted on May 25 by the fourth operating union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Under that agreement, approved only two days ago by the Wage Stabilization board, road service men would receive a wage increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour and those in yard service 33 cents.

The major difficulty has been over adoption of the 40 hour week and changes in operating rules which the railroads want to put into effect. There has been little dispute over wages.

Another Protest

Berlin (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lemuel Mathewson, American commandant in Berlin, sent another protest yesterday to the Russians on Soviet restrictions of goods shipped from West Berlin to the west.

Army Assigns Captain Myers As Resident Engineer At Tobyhanna Military Depot

Philadelphia—Capt. John A. Myers, a reservist with the United States Army Engineers here, has been assigned as resident engineer at the U. S. Army Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna, Monroe county, Pa.

Captain Myers was recalled some time ago to the Army Engineers.

He will serve during the period of construction of the $30,000,000 depot which will utilize some 5,000 civilian employees.

Already on the depot is Major Thomas E. Morrison who is the U. S. Army's Signal Corps liaison officer handling all matters involving the Signal Corps.

Bids on the first phase of the construction for the huge depot will be opened next Tuesday at the Philadelphia office of the Army's Corps of Engineers.

No Evidence Of Padding Uncovered In GOP Caucus Probe Of Fine's Budget

Harrisburg, (AP)—A top GOP leader declared that the opening round yesterday of a Senate Republican probe into the Commonwealth's $1,220,000,000 budget failed to uncover evidence of padding.

"I haven't seen anything in the discussions to date to warrant a possible reduction in the budget," Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter), caucus chairman, told reporters at the close of the day's session.

Answering a reporter's question as to whether he was supporting the administration's program in the probe, Berger stated:

"I am not taking up anybody's cudgels in this thing—if it is right it is right, if it isn't it isn't."

The closed session of the Republican senators was called to make a new effort to resolve the months-long dispute over Gov. John S. Fine's proposed one half of one per cent income tax.

The $119,000,000 income bill has been bottled up in the Senate Finance committee since 11 Republican senators—enough to defeat it—refused to support the measure.

The day's developments brought indications that the lineup of Republican senators on the income tax issue was relatively unchanged although there were conflicting reports as to the number opposing and supporting the bill.

Berger at the close of the night session said some senators think about $1,500,000 can be trimmed out of the budget in various places. He noted that was a small figure when compared with the budget total.

Sen. G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware) told reporters on the basis of what department heads say they need "the budget is in good shape" and that about $90,000,000 additional revenue is needed to balance it.

"But I still am against the income tax," Watkins quickly added. Dr. Edward B. Logan, budget secretary, said that no agreement had been reached on the agreement and some wanted more money.

Berger said the tax problem was not discussed but would be taken up today when interviews with department heads are concluded.

Fire Damages Plymouth Plant

Plymouth (AP)—Fire broke out yesterday in the Leslie-Fay Fashions factory, destroying thousands of completed dresses and causing damage which may reach $1,000,000.

Volunteer firemen from Plymouth and surrounding towns fought the blaze. About 50 employees were driven from the three-story brick building.

Plant General Manager Julius Schoenfeld gave the damage estimate.

The fire started shortly after the day shift of workers had left. No one was injured.

Origin of the fire was not immediately determined.

Kumsong Next Goal Of U. N. Tanks, Troops

Somewhere in Korea, Saturday (AP) — The U.S. Eighth Army commander, Lt. General James A. Van Fleet, said today he expected "a third round of the Chinese spring offensive."

"The Communists" declared intention still is to throw us into the sea," Van Fleet said on a flying visit to an Allied division.

"We do expect a third round of the Chinese spring offensive."

The general said the Chinese have "sufficient reserve units" to begin such an attack.

He did not say when such an offensive might come. However, the Communists have long been expected to attack simultaneously with the arrival of the rainy season, now due.

Tokyo, Saturday (AP)—Allied armored fingers reached out yesterday from the west and south toward Kumsong, Chinese Redoubt in central Korea 29 miles north of Parallel 38.

Between the advancing United Nations forces. Red rear guards fought bitterly for their only main escape road from the fallen "Iron triangle."

In the west, where the Communist main line has been close to the 38th parallel, the Reds were reported making a deep withdrawal. Allied patrols ranged four miles beyond the U. N. front without finding the foe.

On the rugged east-central front, U. N. soldiers slugged through a torrential rain toward new Communist defenses east of Hwachon reservoir and north of Yanggu and Inje.

Heavy artillery fire screened a Red withdrawal. Allied artillery answered with a thundering barrage.

AP Correspondent Don Huth said the war was at a "where do we go from here?" phase—involving tactical questions of whether to drive north with bold entrapment strokes or just keep up slow, even pressure until the Communists tire of it.

Huth said the answer should not be long in coming.

The Allied armored threat in central Korea was aimed at Kumsong, toward which the Reds have been falling back northeastward up the road from Allied-won Kumsong.

West of Kumsong, Allied tank forces mopped up in the broad Pyongyang Valley. South of it, tanks rumbled through a narrow gorge and reached Chupa, within nine miles of Kumsong. Only small arms fire opposed this push.

The ridges before Kumsong thick with Reds pulling out of the Chonwon-Kumsong-Pyongyang triangle.

Safety Experts Denounce Traffic Ticket Fixing

Washington (AP)—Safety experts yesterday denounced the fixing of traffic tickets as an "unwholesome and un-American practice."

The President's highway safety conference, winding up a three-day meeting, adopted unanimously a report which said:

"Conscientious police and court officials' abhor the evils of ticket fixing and should steadily work to eradicate the unwholesome and un-American practice."

The conference also declared: "The killing and maiming of human beings by motor vehicles has reached a point where it is a national emergency."

It suggested one remedy: Stiffer jail sentences for violators. One traffic judge, Roy Degrief of Seattle, contributed a footnote to this theory.

"I put a boy in jail for 18 days for speeding," he said. "When he got out, a traffic policeman picked him up on his way home doing 80 miles an hour on his motorcycle. Jail sentences aren't always the answer."

New Bid To Russia

Washington (AP)—The western powers made a new bid to Russia yesterday for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting to ease tensions in Europe. They assured the Russians they will get a chance to denounce the North Atlantic defense pact and American bases abroad even though those subjects are not on the agenda.

Class To Give Flags To Church

Two beautiful silk flags will be presented Sunday morning to the Stroudsburg Methodist church by the Faithful class of the Church school. Clarence D. Ackerman, president of the class of nearly one hundred men, will make the presentation of the American and Christian Flags and Dr. Paul H. Shiffer will receive them for the Board of Trustees of the church. The ceremony will be made colorful by the assistance of the color guard of the East Stroudsburg American Legion Post No. 346, Drum and Bugle Corps under the leadership of Earl R. Palmer, vice commander of the post.

It is expected that a large number of the members of Post No. 346 will be in attendance with their families for this flag day service. Members and their families will assemble at the American Legion home at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. Walter S. Johnston, minister of the Stroudsburg Methodist church will preach on the theme, "When Our Flag Goes By." Albert J. Fregans, minister of music, and the Senior choir of the church will provide the musical setting for this hour of practical worship which will also honor Father's day.

Air Chaplain Presents Talk Here Sunday

Chaplain (Col.) Robert P. Taylor, air chaplain attached to national headquarters of the Civil Air Patrol, Washington, D. C., will be guest speaker Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at a special Father's day service in East Stroudsburg Methodist church.

A native of Texas, Colonel Taylor received his education in Jacksonville College, Baylor University and Southwestern Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas. He has bachelor of arts, master and doctor of theology degrees.

For 12 years he served churches in Texas and in 1940 became chaplain in the U. S. Air Force. He served at various bases and was then assigned to Philippine Division, 31st Infantry in Manila.

After outbreak of the war he served with his regiment on Bataan and when Bataan fell, Taylor then a captain—was taken captive by the Japanese. A prisoner for 42 months in Manila, in Japan and later Mukden, Manchuria, he was liberated Aug. 20, 1945.

Since returning to the states Nov. 1, 1945 he has served deputy chaplain and wing chaplain at various Air Corps bases.

Eight Princesses Chosen For Laurel Blossom Festival Ball

Court Of 18 To Serve At Coronation

Eight Laurel Blossom Festival Ball princesses were selected yesterday in the contest division to provide a court of eighteen princesses for coronation of Miss Ruth Hussey, beautiful stage and screen star, at the Laurel Ball, Shawnee Inn, June 20.

The other ten princesses will represent as many regional high schools in the Pocono Mountains region at coronation ceremonies which are scheduled for midnight June 20. A fashion show and dance to music of Tommy Tucker's orchestra will precede the ceremony in which Ted Malone, famed American Broadcasting Company commentator, will place the Laurel Queen crown on Miss Hussey.

Selections of the judges followed more than two hours of study and examination of qualifications and dozens of photographs submitted by the contestant representing office workers, waitresses, hotel workers and factory workers.

The winners are:
Betsy Walton Gaunt, 21, clerk at First Stroudsburg National Bank.
Catherine Turnbach, 22, who is employed at Strickland's Mountain Inn.
Mary O'Donnell, 19, employee at Hughes Printing Co. and formerly Miss Stardust of Pennsylvania.

Janet Robinson, 18, employed at Billy Soose's Mountain Retreat, Lake Wallenpaupack.
Judy White, 21, a waitress who resides at Shawnee on Delaware.

Ann Belle Perry, 21, clerk at the Fernwood store near Bushkill.
Dorothy Ann Pine, 22, an employee of the Bell Telephone Co. here.

Margaret Hoffstadt, 21, a clerk in Stroudsburg Security Trust Co.

Judges met in offices of Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau. They were John G. Valence, photographer; Les Carlton, Daily Record photographer; Larry Levy, Stroudsburg photographer; Jack Shinn, co-operator of Vacation Valley; George Graft, of Kol Ag, Inc. and Walter Fossa, director of publicity for the Laurel Festival.

Winning princesses will be notified what to wear and when to meet with Mr. Fossa.

The high school princess include: Mary Ellen Henning, Stroudsburg; Anita Gaal, Matamoras; Georgine Judge, Tobyhanna Township; Rose Marie French, Coalinga Township; Doris Elaine Evans, Barrett high; Jane Sebring, Pocono Township high; Jean Pearson, East Stroudsburg high; Loretta Snyder, Chestnut high; Joyce Carl Hill, Hawley high; Gloria Hanse, Greene-Drehe high.

Critics Loud In Praise Of Lovely Actress Who Will Reign As Laurel Time Queen

Few actresses have won such a set of critical mash notes as did lovely screen star Ruth Hussey—who will be crowned Queen of Laurel Blossom Time at Shawnee Inn during the June 20 Laurel Ball—in the Howard Lindsay-Russell Crouse comedy "State of the Union".

Miss Hussey will be made Queen of Laurel Time in the Poconos at a coronation ceremony to be colorfully staged at midnight June 20.

Following a ball with music by Tommy Tucker's band of the year and a fashion show presented by leading American designers at Shawnee Inn, Miss Hussey is brought here through efforts of Mrs. Pauline Steecons of Pocono Playhouse, Canadensis, where the actress will be starred during week of June 25.

Her performance in "State of the Union" as the president wife of a potential presidential candidate—she was co-starred with Ralph Bellamy—for a solid year sparked that great success into winning the Pulitzer prize.

The critics again found her a welcome addition to Broadway during a four month sojourn as the charming congresswoman in "Goodbye, My Fancy", in 1949. Providence-born Miss Hussey attended Pembroke College, from which she was graduated a bachelor of philosophy. On Sept. 19, 1905, she returned to the campus for one of her proudest achievements—the conferring upon her of an honorary doctorate in fine arts.

In search of a career, she tried her hand first at a Boston business college, but decided that shorthand and typing weren't exactly for her, then went on to further dramatic work at the University of Michigan School of the Drama.

Before her successful Broadway debut, she had preliminary skirmishes with the theater in school plays and with the Providence Players and in Michigan had a season of stock at Northport, then returned to Providence for a season long job as a radio fashion commentator.

Her first professional acting came about quite suddenly. While vacationing in New York she naively decided to contact several of the top Broadway producers. To her surprise she was offered a part on the subway circuit in "The Old Maid" and after a short tour found she had found her métier. The season following, she embarked on a national tour as Kay, the heroine of "Dead End". When the attraction visited Los Angeles, she was signed to an MGM contract.

She won an Academy award nomination in her second film "The Philadelphia Story". In private life she is the wife of C. Robert Longnecker, television executive, and the mother of two sons, aged six and four. Recent theatrical

Lansford — More than 5,000 firemen of the Four-County Firemen's association will march here today in the 54th annual convention parade.

Marchers will begin forming at 1 p. m. and step off an hour later for the Lansford athletic field.

During election yesterday three Monroe county men were chosen for executive positions in the association's governing body.

Jay Snover, of East Stroudsburg, was elected first vice president; J. A. Everitt, Stroudsburg, was elected secretary, and Arthur Kitzman, Stroudsburg, was named to the resolution committee.

Other officers elected are Ray Rogers, president, Northampton; Nevin Fritzing, second vice president, of Cementon, representing Lehigh county; George L. Hummel, third vice president, East Mauch Chunk, representing Carbon county; Clarence Templeton, fourth vice president, Hellertown, representing Northampton county.

Also elected to office were Rev. R. H. Krauss, chaplain, Hellertown; Kline S. Wernett, treasurer, Lansford; Wilbur R. Noll, trustee for five years, Lehigh-ton.

Others named to the resolutions committee are John E. Laurer, Lansford, chairman; Wilbur R. Noll.

Chief Burgess Evan H. Whildin gave the address of welcome yesterday as 200 official delegates assembled to begin the convention.

Arthur F. Everitt, chairman of the association's executive committee, gave the response to the address and accepted the key to the borough from Chief Burgess Whildin. Mr. Everitt, in turn, presented it to Michael E. Krell, outgoing president who was in charge of the convention.

Memorial services were held at 11 a. m. for ten association members who died since the last convention. Two of this number who were honored were J. M. Bunnell, of East Stroudsburg, and Lewis Shiffer, Stroudsburg.

The service was conducted by Rev. Krauss. Appropriate music was presented by the Lansford High school ensemble.

During the business session two new companies were admitted to the association. They are Macungie and Cedarville Fire Companies.

Several reports were given, one by Secretary J. A. Everitt, of Stroudsburg.

The by-laws were amended increasing death benefits from $60

New Students To Enroll At High School

All students entering ninth, tenth, 11th or 12th grade of Stroudsburg High school for the first time next September are asked to register at the high school office some time during the coming week, Monday, June 18, through Friday, June 22.

At this time complete information will be taken about the new students, high school offerings will be explained and schedules will be made out for the coming year.

Principal Alfred W. Munson said this does not apply to students who have already registered and filed their schedule.

To $75 and trustees were authorized to invest $500 in government bonds.

Northampton was selected as the convention site for 1952. The Northampton Fire Co. will celebrate its golden anniversary next year.

East Mauch Chunk Fire Co. requested the convention for 1954, when they will celebrate their 100th anniversary.

Principal speaker at the convention was Ross E. Blodgett, coordinator of civil defense in Allentown county.

He said the State is so per cent unprepared as far as civil defense is concerned. This is not the firemen's fault, he declared, but the blame lies with "our leaders and legislature, where they still play politics."

Blodgett stated the result of this unpreparedness is exposing people to great risks. He said the lack of coordination is "due to sabotage in organizations."

Commenting the part firemen are playing, he emphasized the importance of placing civil defense on the highest possible plane without delay.

New officers were inducted by Arthur F. Everitt and during the banquet last night in the high school auditorium, he presented a gold wrist watch to President Krell on behalf of the association.

Amzi Altemose Campaigns For Commissioner

Brodheadsville — Amzi F. Altemose, building contractor in this region for 23 years, said yesterday he will make an active campaign for the Republican nomination for county commissioner.

A native and life-long resident of Monroe county, Mr. Altemose is now sheriff of Monroe county. He was appointed in 1949 to fill the unexpired term of the late Sheriff Eugene A. Serfass.

Mr. Altemose's first attempt to seek a county office in 1943 resulted in his being elected the first Republican sheriff in the history of the county. He served a full four-year term.

In addition to his building contractor activity, Mr. Altemose has also engaged extensively in farming operations in the past. He is a property owner in this region.

Mr. Altemose is married and has two children. He is a member and deacon of Reformed church at Brodheadsville and several fraternal and service organizations.

"If I am favored with the Republican nomination and am elected, I shall render the same fearless service as a commissioner as I have as sheriff," Mr. Altemose said yesterday.

Leber Guest At Farewell

Bangor — A farewell dinner was given Frank Leber, of 16 S. First St., last night at Ockey's tavern, Johnsonville.

Leber, an employee of Julius Kayser Co. for the past 20 years is being transferred to the company's plant at Westminster, S.C.

He has been a resident of Bangor for the past 11 years and was transferred from the Kayser plant in Brooklyn, N.Y. when he came to Bangor.

Joe Bucher, chief storekeeper at the Bangor plant, served as toastmaster at the dinner. Some 46 employees attended. He presented Leber with a gift on behalf of his co-workers.

Employees Miss Pauline Groner and Miss Kathryn Parry were also presented gifts in honor of their forthcoming marriage in July.

Marine Corps Enlists Women

T-Sgt. Donald V. Dimmick, non-commissioned officer in charge of the Marine Corps recruiting station, Easton, announced yesterday the Marines are now accepting women enlistees between the ages of 18 and 30.

Dimmick explained that prospective Marine enlistees, who desire additional information on requirements, should contact the recruiting station in the Easton post-office building.

Let Us Alone

(From Wall Street Journal)

This newspaper is just like anybody else when it comes to high prices. We don't like them on the things we have to buy.

So we ought to be pleased that Mr. DiSalle plans to help out the newspapers on the prices they have to pay for newsprint. Certainly his motive is good.

But Mr. DiSalle wants to protect us by ordering us not to pay more than a certain price per ton for paper even if the paper manufacturers, most of whom are not in this country, won't sell it to us for that arbitrary price. If we can't get paper at Mr. DiSalle's price—well, Mr. DiSalle thinks we can jolly well do without it.

And that's what Mr. DiSalle's solicitude might lead to. That's what happened to a good many meat packers.

Personally, we have considerable confidence in the ability of newspaper publishers to manage their own affairs. Like everyone else in an inflationary period they may end up paying higher prices, and that will be regrettable. But we think if prices get jacked up too high, the market will take care of the situation just as it has on other things from TV sets to carpets. Any—again personally—we prefer a supply of newsprint even at a high market price to no supply at all.

Although we thank Mr. DiSalle for his kind efforts in our behalf, we wish he would just shut up shop, go home, and leave us to take care of ourselves.

We are completely in accord with these sentiments, not only from the newsprint standpoint, but from the standpoint of many other inconsistent "DiSallisms."

What Price Gambling?

Among the higher taxes approved by the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington this week is one designed to take 10 per cent of the gross receipts of the professional gambler.

This is an interesting experiment in legislation, for even as professional gambling is regarded with a jaundiced eye by many of the states of our nation, it is apparently accepted as an inevitable evil by the House committee whose members think they can dredge up some $400,000,000 additional taxes by putting the finger on the men who live by the optimistic greed of those who like to wager.

Apparently the source of the proposed 10 per cent tax would be the bookmakers, lottery proprietors, numbers or policy operators, and men who run pools on sporting events. The take of this class of citizen is enormous, as anyone above the first grade knows, and very little of it ever finds its way to the national coffers via the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

So, even though there will be opposition from those who have a sincere distrust of all gambling matters, it looks as though the nation may either ignore the huge amounts gained by the professional gamblers or may acknowledge their existence and put the tax collectors on their trails.

Somehow or other the plan, while probably a practical one, bears a slight aroma of appeasement. But again, with our national integrity such as it is, it may be one of the ways to disprove the old adage that crime does not pay.

Brehm's Conviction

Representative Brehm of Ohio has been fined $5,000 and given a suspended prison term of from five to 15 months for taking campaign fund contributions from a woman employed in his office and paid by the Federal government.

Unfortunately, Brehm's conviction won't prevent him from keeping his seat in Congress. Under the law he can't be dispossessed legally, but a man of keener conscience would feel necessity for resigning. But aside from the morality, his ignorance of laws governing his own job certainly reflects heavily upon his ability to make laws affecting others.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A Young man barged into a minister's study, a lovely young lady in tow, and exclaimed, "We want to get married. I beg you to make the ceremony as brief as possible. Here are the credentials. I assure you they're in order. Those ladies knitting in the corner will do fine as witnesses." The minister, amused, performed the ritual, gratefully pocketed a fifty-dollar bill, then protested, "Remember the old adage about marrying in haste, my children. What's your hurry?" The young man, already half way to the door, explained over his shoulder, "We're double parked."

Leo Guild solemnly swears that a new starlet, determined to make a big splash on her first visit to Hollywood, signed the Bel-Air Hotel register, "Mary Blossom and Made."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—After 40 years in the theater, Louis Calhern has made a definite switch from Broadway to Hollywood. Says he knew the break was complete when: "I found myself giving a guy hell for saying Florida oranges were better than ours. I used to be absolutely neutral."

The towering, 56-year-old character actor loves movies: "This is a soft touch. Brother, this is a racket! Everything is made so easy for you. The make-up department, the wardrobe department, the generous treatment you get from directors. There's no agony to it, and there are great periods of relaxation."

M-G-M recently rewrote Calhern's two-year contract, extending it for three more years with no options. He has bought a two living-room Beverly Hills house—further proof of the transition—and installed $200 worth of fencing. This is to protect his wife's poodle. "The dumbest dog I ever knew in my life," Calhern dissembled. "We have him in a Hollywood academy for dogs now, taking a course in obedience. Name's Simon. Simple Simon."

Why the switch to the screen from his footlighted first love? "A character actor can live only if he's playing a lot of parts," said Louis. "There's no such thing as a repertory theater any more. In a year and a half in pictures, I've done songs and dances (Nancy Goes to Rio) played a Russian commissar ('The Red Danube'), and a heavy on horseback ('Devil's Doorway'). The 'Asphalt Jungle' I was a man about town in 'The Magnificent Yankee' Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. Now I'm a French general in 'The Man With the Cloak.' Where else can you have such interesting variety?" Calhern recently performed for seven weeks on Broadway in "King Lear"—more consecutive times than were played in the whole history of the play," he says.

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

It is a little early to write about the Fourth of July, although if plans are to be made for elaborate celebrations, it is none too soon to be thinking about it.

I rarely join committees and organizations, but when Dr. James W. Fifield, Jr., of Los Angeles, asked me to be one of 56 founders of the "Committee to Proclaim Liberty," I joined his company under the Biblical motto: "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." This appears on the Liberty Bell in the sanctuary in Philadelphia.

Dr. Fifield's concept is to have the 175th anniversary of America's freedom under God celebrated not with fire-crackers and accidents on the roads but as a national religious festival. This is the plan:

The celebration involves: Bell-ringing for ten minutes at noon on Independence Day; Clergymen of all denominations preaching sermons on freedom under God on the Sabbath preceding the 4th of July; and each citizen taking time on the 4th of July to read the Declaration of Independence.

That seems to me to be the right idea, for if America means anything to this generation of crisis, it must include in its philosophy the first hundred or so words of the Declaration of Independence which established us as a nation.

The Constitution and the Bill of Rights provide the mechanics of government. The heart of this people, the spiritual core without which our national existence is meaningless, is in the Declaration of Independence.

It is a curious circumstance in our history that the mature and intellectual men who risked their lives to sign the Declaration of Independence found their justification not in the evils of their king but in the authority of God. It was a theocratic concept of political life. Their words are so clear:

"When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the Earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation."

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, in his monumental book, "Church and State in the United States," speaks of the founders in this language:

"This faith in progress was enormously stimulated by the fact that the United States was a virgin continent as far as Western civilization was concerned. Here were vast areas which none but the Indian had ever known. The mere size of the continent, its plains, mountains, lakes, and rivers, forests, waterfalls, minerals, fertile lands—that we call today natural resources—all gave a sense of latent power, and made the settlers feel that they had an opportunity to do creative work of a new character. This was also strengthened by the inherited conviction of Puritans that New England was a new Canaan and that they had an opportunity to work out here their religious ideals. The citizens of the emerging United States were virtually all Christian men who differed much in matters of church membership and loyalty, and in theological belief, and even, especially in the middle colonies, in national background, but they were one in their realization that God was their father and that they were His children, and that there was in all of them a spark of the divine life which made them capable of great things if they would live worthy of their birthright."

Dr. Fifield has raised a great issue and has provided a wonderful opportunity for the thousands of religious edifices of all faiths to proclaim this day of liberty in so articulate a tone that all will hear—the youth who may have to go to war; the child to whom this day has heretofore meant little more than an outing and a car ride.

There is ample time to prepare for such activities as Dr. Fifield suggests. Perhaps this is a way for dissolving the poisonous apathy toward America which has become the badge of our times.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Honorary Degrees For 1951

Prentice Abernathy McStuffil—At no time beyond the first month of OPS have you tried to comprehend the rulings and statements of Mike DiSalle and Eric Jonston on price controls. This has left you unimpaired and in a fairly good position to appraise the general situation and help the war effort while still in your right mind. It establishes you as a unique and extraordinary character. Help yourself to any degree in the house and have a cigar.

Gloria "Jinks" Mullett—You are a woman of charm gifted by nature with the usual physical attractions. Yet you appeared on a video program several times without any effort to establish a new low for necklines. In fact, once you appeared with a blouse buttoned at the neck. This makes you the female video gal of 1951. Won't you stay for lunch?

Oswald Pericles Fish—A member of Congress who joined in all speeches for rigid economy in government expenditures, you really were man enough to vote that way in the show-downs, and you refused to press for your constituents a bill to have the local clamfests dredged, regardless of the cost. An honorary degree is nothing; stop in the trophy room on your way out and take a hatful of medals.

Pluvius Wilbur Proudfish—A lawyer and a member of the Bar Association, you were offered a fat fee to defend a well-known louse, all-around rodent and gangster, but refused to help keep him in circulation at any price. Even when he upped the fee, you told him you wanted no part of him and felt you owed something to the Bar, the courts and the public welfare.

Mavis Arabella Whortelsnaffer—An American housewife sick of having the living room trampled over like a circus arena, and every table in the joint burned by cigarette butts, you took matters in hand, put the video set in the cellar and erected a sign on the house "Take back door for wrestling, roller derbies, fights, etc." You are the Housewife of the Year, whether your husband and neighbors like you or not.

Gregory Cuthbert Quonett—We have failed to find in your entire record that you ever refused to answer a question on the ground it might incriminate or degrade you. You have at all times gladly stated whether you were a Commie or not and have made no fuss about signing loyalty pledges. If you don't rate an honorary degree these days, who does?

Agamemnon Artemus Boffie—You should really be at the top of this list of outstanding Americans. You can change a typewriter ribbon, locate the needle valve on a carburetor and bone a shad. We award you a cluster of degrees, $1,000 cash and are sorry we can't throw a clam-bake.

The Real News Newscast—There's a one-man satire of the Kefauver video that is knocking out-of-town audiences out of their seats. A woman court clerk charged with taking horse bets in the court building has been fired. This reminds us of a similar case in which a judge said, "I was so indignant I could have struck her with a Riting Form." . . . "I think we have a lobster pot," says the skipper of a boat which sunk with a loss of eleven lives in Long Island Sound. Ya mean the Coast Guard is licensing fishing boats that fragile! . . . The appointments of Judge Medina and Police Commissioner Tom Murphy, top figures in the Hiss and the Eleven Communist cases, to high places on the Federal bench shows that Harry Truman believes he can, at one swoop, kill a red herring and throw a hat into a ring. . . . House Ways and Means Committee has voted a 20 per cent withholding tax on all dividends, including savings bank interest. With bank interest at present levels this looks like an attempt to tax the invisible.

Vanishing Americanisms—"I guess he can spell; he's a college grad."

"Can I get delivery at once?" "Big Barbecue Sunday; Tickets One Dollar."

Florida's governor has signed a law making jail mandatory in all bookmaking cases. Bookmaking is defined in the law as taking a bet "on any contest of skill, speed, power or endurance of any man, beast, fowl or motor vehicle." But we still don't think the boys down there will have to make books on tarpon, snook and pompano next winter.

The "boater" or "skimmer" type of stiff straw hat is staging a big comeback this spring. What's a little hot pursuit after a chapeau on a windy day in times like these?

Memoirs of a Girl Friday
Dear W.W.:
Mr. G-man phoned. Said sorry but he simply cannot answer any of the questions you sent him from Int'l News Service editors. Security, etc. If he answered them, the Comies would be too hep. . . . Mr. Baruch called. Says feversakes, one thing at a time! First, he added, you should not lose time getting the Runyon Awards jury. I told him the latest member is Dr. Cornelius P. Rhoads, the big authority on cancer at Memorial Hosp. That makes Rhoads, Baruch, John Edgar Hoover, Gen. MacArthur, Swope, and we haven't yet heard from Dr. Compton or Conant. Don't forget someone from the Senate and House. . . . Mr. Baruch said he will not answer all of your interview queries. Just won't. I said to answer what he wished. He said you should see him—very important. . . . Mr. Billingsley called. Will you kindly pinch-hit for him on next Tuesday's Stork Club program? He's pooped.

Teddy and Phyllis Rodriguez want to know if you are miffed with them. The only act you neglected to salute in your Riviera report. They are grand, and put it in the paper, you hear? Latest radio Nielsen is in. The national one. You're 4th. . . . Amusing verse in from Lee Rogow. . . . You gave us that thing about Ella Logan and that group? They were at "Courtin' Time" hand-holding. Joe E. Brown is oofly good and Carmen Mathews stopped the first-act finale like I never heard or saw a show stopped before.

I see where our tip on the Brinks holdup case broke yesterday's pee-ems. UP had it out of San Antonio. As you reported Sunday night, the FBI won't yak-yak. . . . George Blanehine may deny it, but it's true. He will next marry Tanquil Le Clerck, 21 year old dancer. Soon as present Mrs. (Maria Talcott) is legally unraveled. George is 32, though he'll probably deny that, ulzo. . . . Saw Richard Rodgers, who invented the plan to give house seats (of hits) to Runyon Fund. How about letting Dick present $100,000 in Runyon checks, since "So. Pac" gave us that much in less than a year? That's a dear. . . . Didja ever see Gene Tierney right up close in person? If I were a Guy, I'd have to hug her. The Cubroom bunch last night couldn't take their orbs off'n That Face!

Be sure and drop in a La Vie En Rose. The Al Seigal music is outta this world. Smart floor show. . . . Duba Malina is back at the Copacabana Manor & Mignon (you saw their smart dancing at Sans Souci in Miami Beach) are on the bill. . . . The Capt. Chas. Blairs had such fun doing the town with you. . . . Walter Shirley leaves for Europe in July. He gave $25,000 to help elect the Mayor. Top money-giver. Could Shirley be our next Police Commish? Smmmmmm. It has to be a civilian, you know. . . . Don't miss Nat (King) Cole's delightful disc of "Because of Rain." He wrote it. . . . Jim Coleman of The Toronto Telegram rates a handshake. Whenever he 3-dots his col'm (or apa your wordage style) he never fails to wear it with: "Column in the WW Manner." Watta novelty!

Arthur Godfrey has the unhappies. Weeks ago he got a call from the Secy. of the Navy, who told him the Masons, B'nai B'rith and Knights of Columbus were staging a joint charity ballgame. For people of all "colors, creeds, races," etc.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Today, although it is not Friday, certainly is fish day in the newspapers. Incidentally, whenever you see "today" in this column, that is not the day on which you read it. It is the day on which I WRITE it.

A couple of weeks ago, in one of my columns, appeared a statement that "today is a wonderful day. The sun is shining, it is warm. . . ."

Two days later I received an airmail letter from a fellow in New Mexico. "What kind of a liar are you anyway?" he asked. "You say it's a wonderful day. It is raining cats and dogs. It's a miserable day. No wonder you can't believe anything you read in the papers!"

Yes, indeed it is fish day, today. On page 1 of my local paper appears this heading:

"Thousands of Small Herring Found on Shore in Black Rock."

There is going to be an investigation, not by the Kefauver Committee but by the Connecticut Department of Fisheries and Game.

They want to find out whether the fish died from natural causes or from poisoning. And then there is always the possibility that they committed suicide.

If you were a herring wouldn't it drive you to suicide if you realized the prices the housewives have to pay for you nowadays after you are put in a can and called a sardine?

The second fish story is about the ferry boat "Park City" which has carried passengers from Bridgeport, Conn., to Long Island for the past half century.

Now it is being refitted and will join the shrimp fleet in the Gulf of Mexico.

I may be wrong, but from the way the story is worded it implies that its new career will be a humiliation for the poor boat. I don't see why. I am not very tall, so quite often I have been called "little shrimp."

If I don't resent it, why should the boat?

Now for the third fish story of the day. Three years ago a Brockton, Mass., shoe worker retired at the age of 68.

He bought himself a new car and drove around the city "whistling at girls and generally behaving like a Don Juan."

Complaint began to come in to the police and the fellow got to be called "The Wolf of Brockton."

At last the police caught up with him and he was arrested.

Now 71, he admitted to the judge that he was thoroughly ashamed of himself.

Being a widower, he said, he didn't know what to do with himself since he retired.

"I just like women, I miss them. And I haven't much of anything to do."

The judge ordered him to sell his car and to get his age. And as His Honor left the bench he was heard to remark: "Poor fish."

Bible School To Open At Water Gap

Final plans have been made for the 1951 Vacation Bible School to be held in Delaware Water Gap beginning July 18 running through July 22 and again July 25 through July 29. The hours will be from 9 to 11:30 each morning.

The instructors will be Mrs. Richard Carlton, Mrs. Walter Decker, Mrs. John Myra and Beverly Stevens for the kindergarten department; Mrs. Henry Kulp, Mrs. Layton Zimmerman and Mrs. Harold Akers for the primary department; Rev. Hubert Newton, Mrs. Herbert Buzzard, and Mrs. George Keyes for the junior department; Mrs. Hubert Newton, Miss Nellie Burd and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard for the senior department. Substitute teachers will be Mrs. Walter Bryfogle and Mrs. Francis Drake. The school is sponsored by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches and is for all children interested in attending.

Bartonsville 4-H Cooks Meal

Bartonsville—The Bartonsville 4-H club prepared its first meal at the meeting held June 13 at the home of Mrs. Donald Hartman. They divided into three groups, one to cook, one to serve and one to be guests.

Officers were elected, and the leaders, Mrs. Russell Bond, Mrs. Hartman and Miss Margaret MacLaren were present for the meeting.

Members included Beverly Bond, Nancy Canfield, Elizabeth Frailey, Beverly Hartman, Linda Kresge, Joyce Riday and Linda and Lois Strand. The next meeting will be held June 21 at the Hartman home.

Children Take Over Duties At Bartonsville

Bartonsville—The young folks of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school observed Children's day on Sunday morning by filling all of the positions of officers and teachers in the entire church school. Bobby Field served as superintendent while Walter Getz was pianist as well as secretary.

In the beginner's class each little tot was assigned a task to do in the presentation of the lesson. Kathryn Cyphers and Norma Niehardt assisting with the piano study.

Judy Getz taught the primary class and Nancy Spencer the junior class. Bobby Field replaced Haviland Heller as teacher of the crusader class while LeRoy Cyphers was in charge of the Berean class of which his mother Mrs. Floyd Cyphers is regular teacher. The men's class was taught by Robert Cyphers.

The offering taken during this session of Sunday school will be sent to Tressler's Home for Orphans at Loysville, Pa.

Amid a flower bedecked platform featuring mockorangs, peonies and roses, the children also presented a program Sunday afternoon. The program which was announced by superintendent Haviland Heller was as follows:

Recitation: "Welcome Speech," Sandra Fetherman; "A Little Child," Norma Niehardt; "Two Words," Johnny Field; "Our Own Day," Sara Jane Cyphers; "Flowers In The Bible," Joanne Dunbar.

Song by the Junior choir: "Behold" was followed by, "Just Hoping," Wayne Bond; "Come Again," Kathryn Cyphers; "Jesus First of All," Nancy Spencer and the beginner's class.

Other recitations: "The Way," Donna Hartman; "My Library," Judy Getz; "A Little Child," Janet Tomsic; "The Lost Lamb," Nancy Spencer; Solo, "I Love To Tell The Story," Ray Starnier; and a recitation, "A Children's Day Disease," Donald Getz.

Song by the Junior choir: "The Wise Man Built His House Upon A Rock," and recitations, "Learning of Him," Billy Cyphers; "Jesus and the Children," Beverly Hartman; "The Rose," Pamela Cyphers.

Exercise, "Questions," Beverly Hartman, Beverly Bond and Lois Getz; Song by the Junior choir, "Fishers of Men;" recitations, "A Jolly Sight," Jimmy Possinger; "Big Boy," Ray Starnier; "Pilot Verse," Carl Cyphers.

Primary song, "Climb Up Sunshine Mountain;" exercise, "Two Candles," Beverly Bond, Judy Getz and Barry Bond; Solos, Elizabeth Frailey.

Recitations, "Children Are Like Flowers," Anita Ace; "Good is a Boomerang," Nancy Niehardt; "Challenge," Lois Getz; "To Say Goodbye," Ronald Swink.

Rev. John Bergstrom and superintendent Heller made brief speeches commending the children for the program.

Robert and LeRoy Cyphers accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Cyphers presented instrumental music accompanying the group sing. Mrs. Cyphers and John Frailey were accompanists for special songs by the children.

Ushers for the service were Bobby Field and LeRoy Cyphers. Members of the program committee were Kathryn Melzar, Mrs. William Fetherman, Mrs. Joseph Dunbar and Mrs. Robert Field. Mr. and Mrs. Haviland Heller and Miss Emma Dunbar

Children's Day Program Held At Pocono Union

Henryville — During the Sunday school hour in Pocono Union church, the Children's day program was presented with Mrs. William Stewart and Mrs. Richard Post in charge. After the opening hymn and scripture reading, two selections were sung by all the children.

"The First Children's Day" was then recited by Betty Smith. An exercise "Cheer" was given by Bonnie Strunk, Tommy Strunk, Jimmy Post, Dolores Tucker, and Jacqueline Stewart. A recitation "Birds Were Singing Gaily" by Nancy Wood, after which she with Carol Stewart, Patsy Tucker, Bobby Post and Harrison Stewart sang "Jesus Loves Me."

Hildegard Baumann played a piano solo. Harrison Stewart recited "Flashing." Alice Strunk recited "A Little Rosebud." An exercise "Jewels" was given by Patsy Tucker, Bobby Post, Carol Stewart, Shirley Strunk, Gerald and Jeffrey Seragene, after which Mrs. William Stewart sang, "Jewels."

Anna May Hartshorn recited "Praising God," after which "The Offering" was recited by Patsy Tucker and Bobby Post, at which time the offering was received.

The birthday celebration was then held for all members having birthdays between February and June. The following placed their offerings in the birthday box and were presented with birthday pins and "cakes" by Mrs. Paul Barry: Shirley Strunk, Tommy Strunk, Bobby Post, Alice Strunk, Alice Hartshorn, Richard Post and William Stewart. The closing song was "Everybody Ought to Love Jesus."

Booster Night At Cherry Valley Grange

Cherry Valley — The regular meeting of the Cherry Valley grange, No. 1821 was booster night on Tuesday with the public invited as guests. Singing with Mrs. Clyde Levergood opened the meeting at which worthy Master Harold Dennis presided.

He explained the purpose of the grange, and Tracy Stright, a former worthy master praised the increase in grange membership. The grange, he said, is the largest family organization in the world.

Former state deputy James Ciphers described present projects of the grange.

District Forester E. Clyde Pyle was the guest speaker who spoke on conservation of forests and soils. His assistant, Paul Drury, also spoke briefly. Mr. Pyle showed moving pictures.

Israel Krohn Addresses Bangor Club

Bangor — Israel Krohn, Easton attorney, was the guest speaker at the Bangor Kiwanis club weekly dinner meeting Thursday night at the Colonial hotel.

Mr. Krohn spoke on "Our Blessed Flag," stressing the continuance of our American way of life. He also reminded the 43 members and guests that we have some known thirty or forty thousand Communists operating in the U. S.

Mr. Krohn was introduced by Ernest Turzio, program chairman.

Other guests included: Rev. Richard Rettew, new pastor of the Presbyterian church in Bangor; George Seitz, Allentown; William A. Williams, Allentown and George Shubick, Bangor.

Ken Masters, chairman of the agriculture committee, reported a recent Kiwanis-Farmers night banquet during the business session. The miniature train recently purchased for the Bangor park is going to be marked "Kiwanis Limited." The Kiwanis also went on record to sponsor additional Kiddy Land equipment.

James Drury served as song master, William Bray acted as song leader, and Rev. S. H. Hamm gave the invocation.

Lafayette Buys Industrial Plant For $6,000,000

St. Louis (AP)—Lafayette College of Easton, Pa., has purchased the St. Louis Car Co., in a $6,000,000 transaction.

The sale was negotiated by the Marquis foundation, a non-profit corporation formed to acquire property for the benefit of the school.

The announcement was made by Edwin B. Meissner and his son, Edwin Jr., company officials. They said they agreed to sell their 86,709 shares of stock for cash and notes at $60 a share. The foundation is to offer to buy the other 13,291 shares of other stockholders under the same terms.

Lafayette College is expected to pay off the notes from company earnings. The firm showed gross earnings of $367,000 for the year ending last October 31.

The company builds light-weight noise-proof streetcars, elevated and subway cars, and electric trackless trolleys. It produced amphibious tanks for the government during World War Two.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Coplay American Legion's misfortune was the best stroke of luck to hit Pocono A. C. since the Monroe County entry in the Blue Mountain League was formed last spring. Just when the Pocono A. C. pitching was showing signs of falling far off its early season pace, Ray Steele and Alden "Red" Fetherman were declared ineligible at Coplay and both have returned to the Pocono A. C. roster. Fetherman and Steele are two of the finest athletes in the history of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools respectively, but each is more well known in baseball than any other sport.

Steele, who compiled an almost unbelievable high school record will get a chance to show his stuff against older and more experienced players in the Blue Mountain League. Steele's appearance in this circuit will also give major league scouts a chance to see the tall right handed pitcher in action under tougher circumstances, and you can bet your life that plenty of ivory hunters will be making appearances at Gordon Giffels field before the present summer passes into history. Fetherman will undoubtedly divide his time between the outfield and pitching mound for Pocono A. C.

Don Lang, secretary of the East Bangor entry in the Blue Mountain League, has reportedly resigned his position and a replacement has not been named as yet. Al Bachman, reserve combination outfielder-infielder for Pocono A. C., will be out of action for at least a month with a badly smashed finger. Oscar J. Liljenstein, athletic director at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, the commissioner of the East Stroudsburg Little League, while Gene Martin, football coach and dean of men at the same college, is assisting with the management of the Peters-Arnold-Howell club in the Eastburg circuit.

Eddie Kobesky veteran baseball campaigner who annually brought his Batavia, Pony League, club to Giffels field for an exhibition contest with the Poconos, was recently discharged from a hospital after treatment for ulcers. Before entering the hospital Ed blasted a pinch-hit, grand-slam homer and shortly after his discharge took over the mound as a relief hurler. Kobesky's just a tough man to keep down. Joe Mayer, former Carbondale, North Atlantic League, infielder is now a member of the Schenectady, Eastern League, roster.

Mary Jones, catcher with the Carbondale club last year, is currently hitting .402 for Bradford, of the Pony League. Jones is currently riding the bench with an injury. Ben Cardoni, manager of the Hazleton club, North Atlantic League, for a portion of the 1949 campaign and now pitching for the Scranton entry in the Eastern League, was honored recently by his home town friends from Jess-up. Cardoni and Frank Radler, manager of the Stroudsburg Poconos for the past three years, were teammates sometime ago on the Hartford roster, in the same Eastern League, before Cardoni suffered an arm injury.

Bangor High will reportedly use a combination of the single-wing and "T" formation next football season. Lyle Krell, ESSTC shortstop this spring, was supposed to play with Roseto the entire summer, but the lanky shortfielder returned to Shafers town, near Lebanon, his home town. Louis "Doc" Helman will operate the concession at Giffels field for the remainder of the summer on days Pocono A. C. plays at home. The eighth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic will be held all next week at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Some of the top coaching talent in the business will be on hand starting Monday, with Princeton's Charles Caldwell leading the parade. Although the clinic enrollment wasn't up to that of last year at a late hour yesterday, those attending the affair will represent virtually every section of the United States. This will be the seventh time that the clinic has been held at the local college. Dick Pritchard, shortstop and pitcher for the Roseto club, was nicknamed "Rabbit" in New England's Northern League last summer.

Jim Driebe is doing a great job as official scorer for the Stroudsburg Little League, despite the fact he is working without a score book. Joe Aneda, former Glen Brook pro, names Stan Dudas as one of the future greats in the golf profession. Stan, a member of the Shawnee professional staff, was recently drafted into the army and is stationed at Fort Meade, Md. at the present time. Louis DePaul, recently named vice-president of the Pocono High School Alumni Association, is a former basketball and baseball star at that school.

John Dimmick has been greener-keeper at the Shawnee Inn course since the course was built in 1911. This course will be host to the Invitation Tournament starting next Thursday.

Pocono A. C. Faces Portland In Blue Mountain Tilt

Steele To Take Mound Against Apollos

Pocono A. C. will attempt to move right back into the middle of the Blue Mountain League pennant fight tomorrow, when Manager John Schoonover and company play host to the Portland Apollos at Gordon Giffels field. All Blue Mountain league encounters get underway at 2:30 p.m.

Ray Steele, youthful right hander, is scheduled to do the pitching for the A. C. contingent, while the veteran Bill Greenmoyer will probably receive the mound assignment for the Apollos from Manager LeRoy "Cheesy" Egbert.

Pocono A. C. will open the game with John Drew behind the plate. Danny Eppley on first base. Dewey Martling, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop and Tom "Lem" Bonser, third base.

The outfield will be set with Don Sweda in center and Bob Shick in right, but Doug Schoonover will be unable to play due to an injured leg. Russell "Lindy" Tranter or Dick Schaller will take up the vacant position, according to the pitching selected by the Portland interests.

Pocono A. C. is currently tied for fourth place with West Bangor, with seven wins and three setbacks. West Bangor also faces a tough foe tomorrow when it invades Roseto Park to meet the league leading Roseto A. C. contingent.

In the only game between the Roseto and West Bangor clubs this year, the former came up with a 5-0 victory, on the wings of Dick Pritchard's one-hit performance. Both clubs have been aided by new additions since their last meeting. Roseto is expected to field its strongest combination since the 1951 season got underway, with pitching strength such as Tom Foley, former Anamink ace; Bob Muhr, one-hit victor over Pocono A. C.; Phil Braun and Pritchard, who are capable of playing almost any position on the club. John "Lefty" Janny, of Northampton, is also a member of the pitching staff that has placed Roseto at the top of the heap at the present time.

East Bangor will attempt to protect its second place margin while playing host to Stockertown. The home club is certainly one of the league powers, but was held to a 3-3 deadlock by this same Stockertown team last Tuesday.

The final game on tomorrow's agenda will find the vastly improved Tatamy club playing at Johnsonville.

Cincinnati Trips Braves

Cincinnati (P)—Knuckelbaling Willard Ramsdell set down the Boston Braves with seven hits last night while hurling the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-1 triumph that broke a three-game losing streak. The Reds clinched matters in the first inning with a two-run start against Max Surkont.

Errors Hurt
Surkont was not hit too hard, for only six of the Reds' ten safeties were against him. But four Boston errors ruined the big right hander's chances.

A single by Bob Adams, a walk to Connie Ryan and a wild pitch set the stage for Johnny Wyroszek's two-run single in the opening frame. The Reds also scored Surkont in both the third and sixth frames.

Then they bunched three singles against Bob Chipman for two more tallies in the eighth.

Washington Downs Cleveland, 4-2

Washington (P)—Don Johnson held Cleveland to three scattered hits as Washington defeated the Indians, 4-2, last night. Johnson fanned seven in capturing his second straight decision, the only two games the Senators have won in their last 12.

The Senators pounced on Early Wynn for three runs in the fifth inning to overcome a two-run deficit and dealt Wynn his eighth defeat against four wins.

Freak Homer

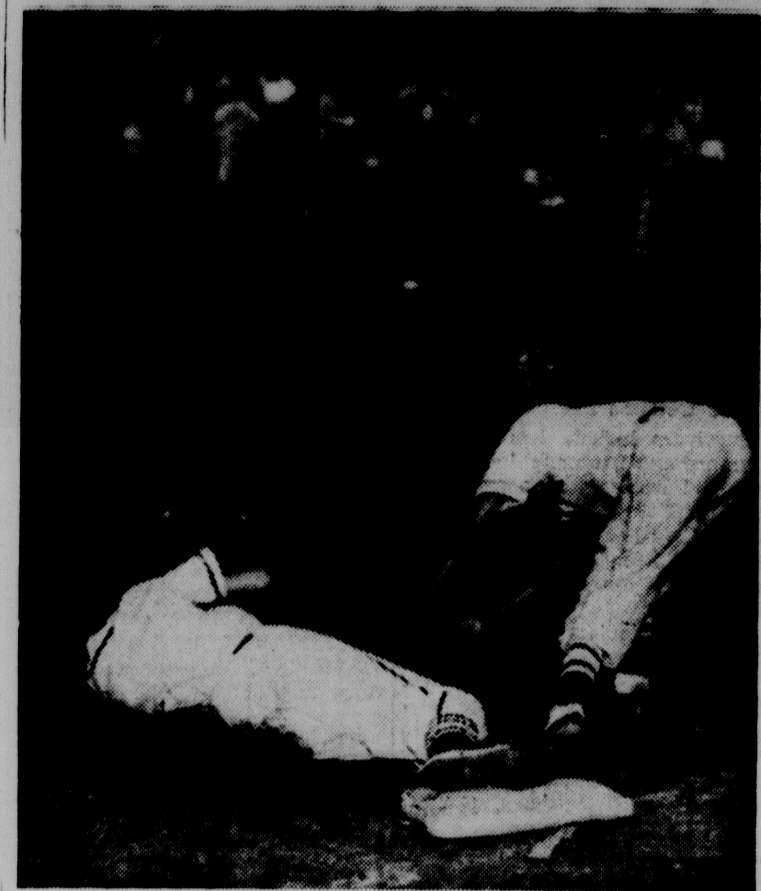

Harry Simpson staked Cleveland to a 2-0 lead in the fifth with a freak home run. His hit to left field rolled into the gutter in front of the field boxes and he circled the bases before Coan could retrieve the ball.

Stock Cars To Race On Pair Of County Tracks

Stock car racing will dominate the picture on two tracks in Monroe County tomorrow, as Delaware Valley and Pocono Sunrise Speedways hold their annual weekly programs, weatherman permitting.

Additional Seats
The Delaware Valley Speedway, rained out of two of its scheduled three cards this year, will attempt to break even with the rain maker tomorrow, when SAFE—Howard Dymond, right fielder for PAH, slides safely into third base during last night's game with the East Stroudsburg National Bank during an East Stroudsburg Little League game. Billy Thomson, National Bank, makes the tag too late to catch the runner. PAH went on to win, 8-7.

PAH, Penn-Stroud Gain Nods In Little League Encounters

Peters-Arnold-Howell took the measure of the East Stroudsburg National Bank in last night's official opening of the East Stroudsburg Little League, 8-7, at the East Stroudsburg Playground. The game was held as part of the postponed Flag day ceremonies and Chief Burgess LeRoy J. Kleinle threw out the first ball.

Penn-Stroud Hotel picked up a 24-10 verdict over the Stroudsburg National Bank in a Stroudsburg Little League contest at Stroudsburg Playground. The game featured a total of 16 errors, ten by the losing club.

Locke Takes Lead In Open Tourney

Birmingham, Mich. (P)—South Africa's Bobby Locke tamed awesome Oakland Hills with flawless iron play yesterday to wrest the halfway lead in the United States Open golf championship with a score of 144, four over par.

Rifling his approaches to every green and putting for birdies on all but three, the chubby British Open champion fashioned a second round 36-35-71 for a one-stroke advantage over Dave Douglas of Newark, Del.

Douglas, with 34-36, was one of two men to equal the rugged 35-35-70 par of this treacherously-trapped layout. Big John Bulla of Verona, Pa., was the other with a pair of steady 35s, but his total was 150.

Falters

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, West Va., first round leader with a 71, faltered badly to take a 38-40-78 for 149 that left him five strokes off the pace going into today's climatic 36-hole grind.

Five strokes in arrears and despairing of his chances of ever catching up was the little defending champion, Ben Hogan, who added a 73 to his first round 76.

Alone in third-place with 146 was the sensational amateur, Francis "Bo" Winingier, a former Oklahoma A. and M. student registering out of Northfield, N. J.

Winingier fired a 34-37-71 in the second round to bracket with a previous 75. The Open hasn't had an amateur king since Johnny Goodman in 1933.

The United States amateur champion, Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N. Y., faltered after a blazing sub-par start to record a 33-38-71 for 149. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, the 1951 British amateur king, had a 77 for 151.

Five turney-tough professionals were bracketed at 147, just ready to leap in if Locke or Douglas should falter in today's trying test.

They were Paul Runyan, the tiny two-time PGA champion from Pasadena, Calif., with a 73-74; Lew Worsham, 1947 Open champion from Oakmont, Pa., 76-71; Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., 72-75; Al "Red" Brosch of Garden City, N. Y., 73-74; and Charles "Chuck" Klein of San Antonio, Tex., 73-74.

Cards Trample Phils

St. Louis (P)—The St. Louis Cardinals trounced the Philadelphia Phils 10-2 before 9,320 fans last night, with Harry "Peanuts" Lowrey, Billy Johnson and Stan Musial leading the attack. Lowrey and Johnson each had a homer and two singles and Musial had two doubles and a single.

Louis Stops Savold In Sixth Round

Former Champ Holds Edge From Start

New York (P)—The old Jose Louis dynamite exploded on ring-rusty Lee Savold in 2:29 of the sixth round last night for a sensational knockout win over the blood-smearing veteran recognized as world champion in Britain.

Looking his best since he started up the long comeback trail toward a promised September date with champion Ezzard Charles, the 37-year-old Bomber received a terrific ovation as he strode from the ring. A power-laden left hook out of a flurry of punches dumped 35-year-old Savold on the deck for the only knockdown of the scrap.

Lee struggled to get up and was just about to make it when referee Ruby Goldstein unfolded his bloody hulk in his arms.

Spouting like a fountain from a battered nose that probably was broken, Savold was cut down methodically by Louis who made good his pre-fight prediction to the exact hour.

"I think I'll knock him out in the sixth," he said at Pompton Lakes ten days ago.

He hit it right on the nose—Savold's nose that is.

The old Louis left jab, always a ramrod that sent opponents' faces bobbing like apples at a Halloween party, was at its best. Seldom did he miss his mark, time after time he followed it with a crunching short right uppercut as part of a three punch combination that wound up with another hook.

Lone Flurry

Only in the fifth when a long right hand lead nailed Louis on the jaw, did Savold damage the Bomber. Joe wavered as if hurt but he shook it off and another right that followed.

Trim and sharp at 211½ to Savold's 190, Louis lived up to the 19 to five odds favoring him by winning all the way. The AP card gave Savold only one round, the fifth.

This "battle of the aged" as it had been called by men as a gas turned out to be quite a show of Louis' determination to cap his comeback with another Charles fight.

Joe is obsessed by a desire to become the first heavyweight champion ever to win back the title he held so many long years.

Away from the ring since he knocked out Bruce Woodcock in London a year ago, Savold appeared way off form. His famed left jab and hook were not connecting although he took the offensive from the first bell.

Backing off to drive home that ramrod jab, the old deadpan Louis calmly cut down the hulking blond from Englewood, N.J., by way of Canby, Minn.

From the first round on, Savold gave a pained expression on his face, as though surprised at the old king in Louis' jab. His nose started to bleed in the second. By the fourth round his face was smeared. Then in the sixth it really poured out to gush over ringriders every time Louis pulled the trigger.

A surprisingly large crowd poured into the Garden through a drizzle to see this contest, twice postponed and finally moved from the Polo Grounds to the inside arena.

Giants Triumph Over Pirates

Pittsburgh (P)—The New York Giants sparked by catcher Wes Westrum's ninth and tenth homers of the season, crushed a ninth inning rally of the Pittsburgh Pirates last night to win 11-6. It was Jim Hearn's sixth victory of the season against three defeats.

Westrum connected for his first homer in the fifth after two walks by Pirate pitcher Bob Friend and an error had loaded the bases.

Second Blow

The second circuit clout came in the ninth with one aboard. The Pirate rally accounted for four runs in the ninth. Two crossed the plate on a wild throw by Bill Rigney. Glenn Nelson accounted for two more with a double to left center. The crowd of 22,746 saw the threat ended there.

Hearn allowed the Pirates ten hits but kept them well scattered as the Giants won their fourth straight. The Bucs got no more than two hits in any one inning.

Yankees, Dodgers Strengthen Pennant Chances As Six Clubs Beat Midnight Trading Deadline

Six major league baseball clubs, racing to meet the midnight deadline on trades, engaged in wholesale swaps yesterday with every indication the New York Yankees, St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers definitely strengthened themselves.

Here is how the trades shaped up:

Chicago Cubs—sent outfielder Andy Pafko, pitcher Johnny Schmitz, catcher Al Walker and second baseman Wayne Terwilliger to Brooklyn Dodgers—for southpaw pitcher Joe Hatten, catcher Bruce Edwards, infielder Eddie Miksis and outfielder Gene Hermanski.

New York Yankees—acquired Bob Kuzava from Washington Senators—who received Fred Sanford, Tom Ferriek and Bob Portfield. All are pitchers.

St. Louis Cardinals—acquired Wally Westlake, infielder, and Cliff Chambers, left-hand pitcher from Pittsburgh Pirates—who received southpaw pitcher Howie Pollett, catcher Joe Garigiola, outfielder Bill Howerton, relief pitcher Ted Wilks, and Rookie shortstop Dick Cole.

The champion Yankees, presently running second to Chicago's high flying White Sox in the American league, landed a promising 28-year-old southpaw in Kuzava in response to manager Casey Stengel's urgent plea for pitching help.

If the Bombers gave the Washington Senators anything of importance in exchange for the front line hurler, it was not immediately apparent. They surrendered Sanford, the $100,000 "lemon"; Ferriek, a relief flinger who has done little this year, and Portfield, a right hander who has been toiling for their Kansas City farm.

Unpopular

President Clark Griffith of the Washington club said no cash was involved. Kuzava was reported to have been unpopular with manager Bucky Harris of the Senators. He had won three and lost three for a sixth place club this season.

Seven players were involved in an exchange between the Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates, the first big deal engineered by Branch Rickey since he became general manager of the Corsairs.

The Cards received two top-flight performers in Wally Westlake, one of the National League's most virile sluggers who already has whacked 16 home runs, and Cliff Chambers, a left hander who delivered a no-hitter against Boston early in the season and who stands 3-6 for a last place club.

In exchange the Pirates landed Pollett, whom Ricky long has coveted; Joe Garigiola, Howerton, Wilks and Cole. Again the announcement said that no cash had changed hands.

Pollett, long one of the National League's slickest moundmen, held out obstinately this past spring, reported late and has been unable to recover his form for the Cards. His record stands at an unimpressive 0-3, but Rickey undoubtedly feels that a change of climate will prove beneficial.

Raschi Hurls Yanks To Win

New York (P)—Vic Raschi became the first major league pitcher to win ten games as he pitched the New York Yankees to a brilliant 2-0 three-hit victory over the Detroit Tigers last night.

Raschi had a no-hitter until the sixth inning when relief pitcher Fred Hutchinson singled to break the spell. Raschi fanned eight and was in trouble only in the ninth inning.

The Tigers put two on base with one out in the ninth but Raschi fanned Joe Ginsberg and George Kell was doubled up trying for third.

A's Sweep Pair

From White Sox

Philadelphia (P)—The lowly Philadelphia Athletics, deep in the American League cellar, last night jolted first-place Chicago twice—4-3 and 12-5—and ended a 15-game consecutive road win streak for the White Sox.

Fatal

An error that ended in a free-for-all battle gave the A's victory in the 11-inning opener, while Gus Zernia's bases-loaded homer highlighted the second game of the two-night doubleheader.

Invitation To Be Played At Shawnee

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Top flight golfers from a dozen eastern states will be in the field of 175 qualifiers when the twenty-eighth annual Shawnee Invitation Tournament opens at the Shawnee Inn and Country Club here Thursday, June 21. Match play rounds will continue on June 22, 23 and 24.

With Ed Meister, Cleveland, champion for the past two years expected back to defend his title, the field takes on additional strength with the entry of Howard Everett, former Pennsylvania state amateur king, now playing out of Atlantic City, and Ed Holland, Bermuda champion.

Entries

Ellis Taylor, champion from Wilmington, Del.; Harry Lister, Hempstead, L. I.; Dr. Ben Pastorini, New York City; Pete Krofer, New Brunswick, N. J.; Dr. Tom Cavanaugh, Newton Centre, Mass.; Paul and Charles Hyde, Buffalo; John O'Brien, S. J. DeFazio, and Dr. T. P. McWilliams, all of Scranton and a quartet including Rudy Matern, Frank Eck, A. Straffici and B. Dobbs, all of New York City, were among recent entries.

Two former champions of other sports also are expected to be in the field at teeing off time. Howard Ehmke, Philadelphia, former star hurler for Connie Mack's Athletics, and Judge Al Cooper, Trenton, former U. S. Olympic soccer star have indicated they would be among the starters.

Owners, Chandler Agree On Terms

Knoxville, Tenn. (P)—Baseball and A. B. "Happy" Chandler will part company within a matter of days.

Chandler made this clear yesterday when he said he and the major league club owners had agreed on terms for his resignation.

The actual formalities may take place early next week at a meeting in Cincinnati between Warren Giles, owner of the Reds, and the commissioner.

The magnate met in New York Thursday, accepted Chandler's terms and named Giles to advise Chandler.

Capacity Crowd Expected To Watch Chitwood's Thrill Program At Blakeslee Track Tonight

Blakeslee — Jolie Chitwood's motor mania has a standard gag line they use just for themselves.

It goes like this, "You don't have to be crazy to drive in Chitwood's show, but it sure helps." Local patrons will see the World's Champion Auto Daredevil perform at the Pocono Sun-rise Speedway tonight at 8:30 under portable floodlights, after the heavy rains washed out last Thursday's scheduled performance. A capacity crowd is expected to turn out for the Chitwood show's first appearance in the mountain area.

Long recognized as the nation's leading automotive thrill show, the show got that way just because of the devil-may-care attitude of the drivers and their boss' skill at working out new ways for them—and himself—to risk their necks.

Long History

And the ways are many. They run from terrifying head-on collisions that make the spectators shudder, to playing leap frog with brand new 1951 Ford stock sedans. Sometimes the performers wonder how they ever managed to get into such a reckless set-up.

Chitwood, the world's champion, and a full-blooded Cherokee

Indian, drifted in. He worked as a mechanic on the big cars. Then he turned to driving the speed wagons himself and developed into one of the greatest speed stars in the history of the racing game. He picked up three National AAA titles, and holds more track records in the east even today than any other living driver. He is also a nine-time money winner in the 500 mile speed classic at Indianapolis.

He always had a yen for "stunting" stock sedans, and was a close friend of the late "Lucky" Teter, who lost his life in 1942 attempting a ramp-to-ramp car leap.

Dodgers Win Over Cubs, 2-1

Chicago (P)—Big Don Newcombe returned to action after a week's layoff yesterday to stop Chicago, 2-1, driving home the winning run with a sixth-inning single.

It was the Dodgers' fourth straight victory on their western tour.

Sidelined last Saturday by a recurrence of an old shoulder injury Newcombe hit a sensational strike-out pace in the late innings. In the sixth he struck out the side, interrupted only by Ransom Jackson's two-out single. Then he fanned the first two hitters in the seventh. After the third man grounded out, he fanned Hal Jeffcoat leading off the Cub eighth. Six of his seven victims came in that two and one-third inning span.

Scoring

Brooklyn got to Paul Minner, once a Dodger, for both runs in the sixth to overcome an early Cub lead. Jackie Robinson's double, his second of three hits, led off the inning. With one out, Carl Furillo singled home Robinson to tie the score. "Rocky" Bridges rode Furillo to third with a single and Newcombe won his own game.

Frankie Frisch's lineup changes paid off in the fourth when Phil Cavarretta, reinstated to his old first base job, opened with a double. Ransom Jackson's single scored Phil but that was all.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1951
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You who would be highly individualistic, play the whole show or play it alone, will find things rather against the course. Advice is moderation, cooperation, humility and little love. Don't be impatient.
April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Excellent vibrations for business and personal affairs. Good gains now. If you distribute efforts uniformly, after earnestly well employed day, take earned rest, with love ones. Aspect favorable to success.
May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Auspicious configurations to 5 p. m. Financial, professional matters in high spot. Take careful survey of prospects. How much can you handle? Seek further advice if needed. Guard personal affairs.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—With extra effort, keen judgment especially in money, property or business matters, you can move forward. May even get good results from mediocre possibilities. Study, ask questions.
July 24 to Aug. 23 (Leo)—May encounter a little resistance here, there. Being more or less on your own, proper analyzing things first is a must. Advancing and you will achieve. Don't be downed.
Aug. 24 to Sept. 23 (Virgo)—Take full advantage of friendly aspects last few most of day. Get early start, be consistent, and willing to take as well as give. Maximum results if you systematize effort.
Sept. 24 to Oct. 23 (Libra)—Very interesting day awaits you who will seek. Have confidence be cheerful. Contacts with elders opposite sex should work out well. Be energetic, but not stubborn.
Oct. 24 to Nov. 23 (Scorpio)—Check and double check each idea or act before assenting. Legal and business contracts, promotions, bear close watching, take your time thoughtfully. Don't be impatient.

Nov. 24 to Dec. 23 (Sagittarius)—The opposite sort of advice to Scorpio. You could hardly miss gains with true incentive. Fine possibilities for any real effort. Get what you can but only honestly.
Dec. 24 to Jan. 23 (Capricorn)—Outlook fine if you are actually on guard in things in cheerful way. Forget fears, but take no foolish chances. Be seriously moderate and you will achieve. Romance favored anew.
Jan. 24 to Feb. 23 (Aquarius)—Stars agree you are actually on guard in money or any important matters. Don't hesitate to ask advice never hurt, often prevents loss, trouble. Be tactfully cautious.
Feb. 24 to March 23 (Pisces)—Don't strain, have even tempo. Aspect favorable for worthy effort, more benefit to the hard, sincere worker. Build your ideas, plans on solid foundation, and results will be lasting.
March 24 to April 23 (Aries)—Marked adaptability, therefore, are ever ready to seek new outlets. Are bright, grasp situations, understand conditions intuitively, and generally have a confident feeling, even with newest ventures. Be wise, don't be heedless or disregard the valued experience of others. You can drive a good bargain, yet be foolishly generous at times. The quality of your nature will speak for itself. Pray daily for moderation of restless, overworldly peace. Birthdate: Gustavus V. King of Sweden; John Linnell, Eng. painter.

Waring Music School Opens At Clemson

The Waring School of Music, famous for the past few years at Shawnee Inn, moves out to colleges and universities of the nation this year for the first time with Clemson College in South Carolina as the first stop.

Ennis Davis, director of the school, left here yesterday for Clemson and following Sunday's television show by Fred Waring and his orchestra and cast, the key people used by Mr. Waring and Mr. Davis in the school will fly to Clemson to conduct the famous school on Waring choral techniques.

Pennsylvania State College will be included on the Waring School of Music agenda in the East. Some indication in the tremendous response to Mr. Waring's offer to extend the school to colleges and universities may be seen at Penn State where 250 are already enrolled. Twenty-five states are represented.

Other institutions where Mr. Davis has set up the school include Indiana University, Southern Methodist University and the College of the Pacific.

Judge Little To Preside At Trial

Scranton (P)—Judge Edward P. Little of Montrose will preside at the murder trial of 53-year-old Charles E. Homeyer which gets under way Monday at Tunkhannock.

The State Supreme court assigned Judge Little to the trial after Wyoming County Judge Edward B. Farr of Tunkhannock told the high court his physician had recommended a rest.

Homeyer will be tried for the slaying of his wife, Anna Snellman Homeyer, 67, whose skull and pelvis were found buried last March in the cellar of the house the couple once occupied in Factoryville. It was estimated that the trial will take 10 days to two weeks.

Bendix Aircraft Firm Buys Plant At South Montrose

New York (P)—Bendix Aviation Corp. announced yesterday purchase of the plant of the South Montrose Manufacturing Co., South Montrose, Pa.

A new division of Bendix, to be known as the Montrose division, will be established under supervision of Raymond P. Lansing, vice president. It will employ up to 700 workers at the new location for production of equipment for the armed forces, the company said.

The purchase will add 102,000 square feet of floor space for expanded production of Bendix products. The new division is the third to be added since the Korean war increased the demand for Bendix aircraft, automotive and communications equipment.

Although yesterday's announcement did not outline plans of the South Montrose company, which produces wood specialties, it was reported to be preparing to move its operations into a new plant.

THE SHERMAN THEATER STAGE will present Wednesday, June 20, at 2:30 p.m. Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, featuring favored fairytale of young and old alike. This is one of the scenes of the stage production.

DPA Holds Up Hazleton Loan

Washington (P)—Edwin T. Gibson, deputy defense production administrator, told a House inquiry group this week that his agency planned a "complete revision" of its defense lending policy.

As a start, he told the House executive expenditures subcommittee, DPA is withholding a proposed $7,800,000 loan to the Hazleton Steel and Tubing Corp.

The subcommittee has had several defense agencies under scrutiny for what it called "questionable" handling of the defense loans and tax concessions. It was particularly incensed about the Hazleton loan, reporting the proposal "almost defies belief" because the company's backers would have only $600 invested.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Add the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 1. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers. Move to the right then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

CPA State Convention At Shawnee

Shawnee-on-Delaware—Former Gov. Harold H. Hoffman, of New Jersey, will be among speakers at the 54th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants June 17-20 at Shawnee inn.

Several hundred certified public accountants from across Pennsylvania will attend the gathering to elect officers and act on such problems as cooperation with the bar, endorsement of new financial reporting procedures and pending legislation affecting accountants.

The annual golf tournament and inter-chapter golf match for the R. J. Bennett cup; the inter-chapter tennis match for the tennis trophy and other sports will leave the business activities of the meeting.

Arrangements for the annual meeting are in charge of Irving Yaverbaum, Yaverbaum & Co., Harrisburg. Assisting him are Leonard D. Goldring of the same firm in charge of registration; Norbert F. Stanny, Pittsburgh; golf: Harry G. Thomas, of Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, Philadelphia, social activities; Paul C. Spiese, of George F. Motter's Sons, York, other sports, and Herbert A. Leister, of Montgomery, McCracken, Walker & Rhoads, Philadelphia, publicity.

Women's activities during the four-day meeting include sports, card party, president's reception, tea and entertainment. In charge of these events are: General chairman, Mrs. Paul Katzen, Pittsburgh; teas and parties, Mrs. Frank S. Glendenning and Mrs. J. Cyril McGarrigle, both of Philadelphia; putting, Mrs. William W. Collins, Pittsburgh; shuffleboard, Mrs. Thomas P. Strauss, York, and golf, Mrs. John V. Bowser, Pittsburgh.

The meeting opens with the president's reception Sunday night. Elections will be held at the closing session Wednesday. Business sessions are planned Monday and Tuesday.

Mountainhome — At the weekly meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mountainhome Methodist church, held at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon, plans were made for the presentation of an entertainment on Tuesday, July 24. The program will be a mock trial of a breach of promise suit. This promises to be an hilarious and interesting evening. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Marjorie Force, Mrs. Joseph W. Swaine and Mrs. John C. Smith, is working out the many details involved, and will make reports from time to time as the program develops.

Arrangements were also discussed for the annual bazaar to be held on Wednesday, August 15, and for which many articles of wearing apparel and household necessities as well as promises of cakes, pies and other foodstuffs have already been secured.

Mrs. Harold N. MacMurray acted as hostess, and those present included Mrs. Marjorie Force, Mrs. Joseph W. Swaine, Mrs. Gerald A. Case, Mrs. John C. Smith, Miss M. Ada Stright, Miss Bertha Bugless, Mrs. F. Wayland Ford and Mrs. Grace Case. The meeting for the coming week will be held on Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Swaine.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reisenwitz are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter born at the General hospital at East Stroudsburg.

Norman A. Peil, Republican County Commissioner, has been appointed by President Truman on the Highway Safety Committee on laws and ordinances. Commissioner Peil attended this conference at Washington D. C. on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Sidney Effross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Effross of Delaware Ave. and a member of the faculty of the Blairstown, N. J. High School will be among the 2100 young men and women receiving baccalaureate and advanced degrees on Saturday as Rutgers University holds its 185th commencement. He will be among the 200 doing graduate work at the University to be awarded a Master of Education degree. A graduate of the Portland High School, he taught in the Portland schools before entering the armed forces for World War Two.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bugge and daughter, Cynthia, of Washington N. J., visited on Wednesday with Mrs. Bugge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barton, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter have returned home after spending several days with their son-in-law.

WANTED: Man who can qualify as Weighmaster and Office Manager. Present employee finds it necessary to retire on account of ill health after 39 years' service. Middle aged person with high school education preferred but not essential.

Regional Future Farmers Place High In State Meet

Leo Held, Polk Township High school student, placed high in the vocational agriculture contests during Future Farmers of America week at Pennsylvania State College.

Held received a bronze emblem award in the poultry competition and placed third in the egg grading contest.

He will be one of three Pennsylvania vocational agriculture students to represent the State at the Northeastern Poultry Producers Cooperative contest next October at Harrisburg.

Other regional winners in the FFA week, contests, which wound up yesterday, are Kenneth Oxford, Bangor, who won a gold emblem in poultry judging; Charles Kuhenbecker, Polk High school, won a bronze emblem in the dairy judging.

Paul Lockard, Bangor, won a bronze emblem in the insects and plant disease judging; Orin Stevens, Bangor, received an honorable mention in the livestock competition.

In the tractor driving contest, Charles Hoffman, of Chestnut Hill High school, placed 11th out of 33 entries.

There were over 300 entries in the livestock judging, 450 in the dairy contest and 150 contestants in the poultry contest.

In the three contests the first ten winners received a gold emblem; the second ten received a silver emblem; third ten a bronze emblem and the fourth ten received honorable mention.

Griffith said another instance of this cooperation is the 1951 "green pastures" contest being sponsored by PMA. The mobilization committee, the Department of Agriculture and other services have endorsed this program, he asserted.

Deadline for farm participation in Monroe county is July 1. Interested farmers may obtain entry blanks at the PMA office in the court house, the PMA-Mobilization head declared.

law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Staiger and son, Charles at Utica, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sprich, of Washington, N. J., spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter.

Mrs. Frank Gardner will be hostess to the Afternoon Card Club at her home on Thursday afternoon.

Otto Hochrein, of town, spoke of a trip he made to Europe last winter at the meeting of East Bangor Lions club in the East Bangor school cafeteria on Tuesday night.

He told of his visit to his parents in Germany and of the destruction as a result of the war in Germany, France and England.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Litts are the proud parents of a daughter, born at home June 6. The baby weighed six pounds, eight ounces and will be named Deborah Marie. Mrs. Turrell Keller, East Stroudsburg, maternal grandmother, spent a week with the family. Debbie has two brothers Ralph and Jimmie.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Moore and son, David, will soon move into one side of the two family house formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Scheafer and recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Martin.

The Sunday school teachers of the Bushkill Dutch Reformed Church school met on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horton Stettler. Ralph Turn Jr., superintendent, conducted the meeting. Plans to be announced later, were made for a community picnic. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stettler to the following: Mrs. C. N. Guillot, Mrs. Edwin Bartram, Mrs. B. H. Bensley, Mrs. Laurence Butz, Ralph Turn Jr., Horton Stettler.

West End Lions Plan Installation

Saylorsburg — Officers of the West End Lions club will be installed Wednesday at 8 p. m. during a meeting in the Diamond Inn.

Sidney Effross, Portland, zone chairman, will conduct the installation ceremonies.

Attorney George T. Robinson, borough solicitor of Stroudsburg, will be guest speaker. He will be introduced by John Wernett, program chairman.

Cpl. Richard N. Anderson Mixes Army Life With Art

The personality column in the June 1 issue of The Aegis, published at Bel Air, Md., was devoted to Cpl. Richard N. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson, 617 Wallace St., Stroudsburg, telling how he mixes art with Army service.

Anderson, who was graduated from Stroudsburg High school and attended Penn State College and Columbia University, is presently assigned to Post S-3 as a draftsman. The column tells how he entered the Army service in September, 1946, at Camp Lee, Va., in the Army Band school and toured the Europe command with a special services show, "Fascinating Rhythm."

Returning to the United States in January, 1948, for discharge, he re-entered Penn State where he studied advertising. Later he transferred to Columbia, majoring in English.

Recalled in September, 1950, he was assigned to the 294th Smoke Generator Co., then to headquarters duty. He is commended for his art work at the Army Chemical center, also for special services, medical laboratories and public information office.

Currently he is working on a combat course layout and in illustrating a project for present police-campaign.

Corporal Anderson hopes to return to Columbia when discharged from the service and later enter law school at Harvard.
